Criticizes Newspapers for Widespread Publication of Crime

At the quarterly meeting and dinner of the Boston druggists association, held last night in Young's hotel, Boston, Dist. Atty. John J. Higgins of Middlesex county, declared it to be his belief that crime is on the decrease. He was introduced by Pres. J. Arthur Bean, the toastmaster, and spoke on "The treatment of the criminal in Middlesex county."

Mr. Higgins mildly criticized the newspapers for the widespread publication of stories of crime. "It would be better policy for the people if less publicity were given to murder cases and executions," he said. "It tends to give way to the defence the evidence of the government and while the defence knows all, the government is left with nothing to rely on. The details of crimes as published in the newspapers cultivate a demand for this kind of reading. It also, I am afraid, very often leads to a duplication of crime."

PORTUGUESE REVOLT

Troops Take Possession of Island of Macao

MACAO, Island of Macao, China, Nov. 30.—The Portuguese troops of the local garrison and the crew of the Portuguese gunboat Patria revolted last night and, taking possession of the city, proceeded to enforce certain changes in the administration of the affairs of this dependency of Portugal. The rebels continued in control today, the governor and military officers being powerless.

The revolt began with the landing of the sailors of the Patria, who marched to the public square, where they fired three volleys as a signal to the troops, who at once forced an entrance to the armory and arming themselves, joined the seamen.

Several hundred strong, the rebels proceeded to Santa Clara convent, from which they drove out the nuns, ordering them to leave the island. The nuns fled to Hong Kong.

From the convent the rebels marched to the government house, before which they mounted a cannon. An infantry with the governor was requested and when the officers at the government house intervened they were silenced at the point of the bayonet.

The governor was compelled to hear the demands, which were the expulsion of the religious orders, increased pay for the army and navy, the suppression of the newspaper, and the righting of alleged wrongs suffered by the soldiers and sailors.

Under threat the government granted every demand.

HONG KONG CONFIRMS
HONG KONG, Nov. 30.—The Portuguese garrison and naval force at Macao have revolted, demanding the expulsion of the nuns and an increase of pay. The government house was threatened, a gun being trained on it. There is intense anxiety here and foreign consuls are making urgent inquiries regarding the security of the citizens of their countries and their property in Macao. The Chinese viceroy has been warned to have troops in readiness for action. The British authorities had not sent a gunboat to the scene today. British citizens of Macao are arriving here.

ISLAND OF MACAO
Macao is a seaport and a dependency of the Portuguese in China situated on a peninsula of the island of Macao on the west side of the entrance to the Canton river, 70 miles southeast of Canton, and 35 miles west of Hong Kong.

It was settled by Portuguese merchants in the latter part of the sixteenth century and long was a flourishing port. After the cession of Hong Kong to the British the trade of Macao declined rapidly. The city was subsequently ceded to Portugal by China. Gradually the Portuguese extended their rule over the whole island. China objected to this extension of territory and has frequently clashed with Lisbon over their respective territorial rights. Continued diplomatic

CASE IS WEAKENED

Judge Bond Rules Out Evidence of Dying Statement

In Leblanc Murder Case Today—District Attorney Higgins Admits That Ruling is Severe Setback for Prosecution But Will Proceed With the Trial

CAMBRIDGE, Nov. 30.—The alleged dying statement of Clarence Glover, for whose murder Hattie Leblanc is on trial for her life and which statement is said to have named the girl as firing the fatal shot, was ruled out of the case by Judge Bond today.

The district attorney claimed yesterday that the statement was essential to the government's case, but said today that the trial would proceed.

Judge Bond allowed the prosecution an hour to produce additional proof that the dying statement was competent, and then said that he had reviewed the evidence very carefully, but could not bring his mind to believe that the statement by Glover that Hattie Leblanc shot him, was made under the solemnity of approaching death. I therefore exclude it from the case.

The court room seemed to be quivering with excitement when Judge Bond took his seat at the opening of the trial today, for he had announced at the adjournment last night that he would make his decision the first thing this morning. Judge Bond and District Attorney Higgins both appeared nervous, and M. M. Johnson, the leading counsel for the girl, was also somewhat excited, for the district attorney had stated that on the introduction of this evidence rested the essential proof of the government's case.

Before Judge Bond could utter a word the district attorney had jumped to his feet and renewed yesterday's argument by asking that additional witnesses might be heard. He told Judge Bond that Glover's statement was of the greatest importance to the government and he urged the court to hear a few more witnesses before ruling on the matter.

Mr. Higgins said he was convinced that the jury should have a chance to hear this testimony and what Glover said during the hours before his death. The witnesses he wanted to call today, he thought, would clear the doubt in the mind of the judge as to the presence of certain of the witnesses at the hospital when Glover lay there. He said that while they might differ somewhat in their testimony they would be found to agree on the main facts.

Counsel Johnson for the girl denounced what he called the attempt of the district attorney to crowd incoherent and conflicting testimony into the case and quoted the testimony of several of the doctors yesterday to show that not one of them told Glover that he was dying. "Glover," he declared, "never said 'Hattie shot me.' After the policemen made him realize that he was dying, Judge Bond allowed two witnesses to be heard, one a girl, Ethel Snow, who was with her friend, H. A. King, when the latter jumped off his wagon to help Glover after he had been shot. Another was Alfred Proctor who was at the hospital when Glover was taken in and who said he heard Glover say several times "Hattie shot me."

Judge Bond's Decision
Judge Bond gave his decision in a clear voice.

"The stories by these witnesses," he said, "seemed to differ strangely and I must insist that they have not convinced me that Mr. Glover's statement 'Hattie shot me,' was made under the solemnity of approaching death. People get the habit of saying 'I'm going to die,' but such statements are seldom made with such a conviction."

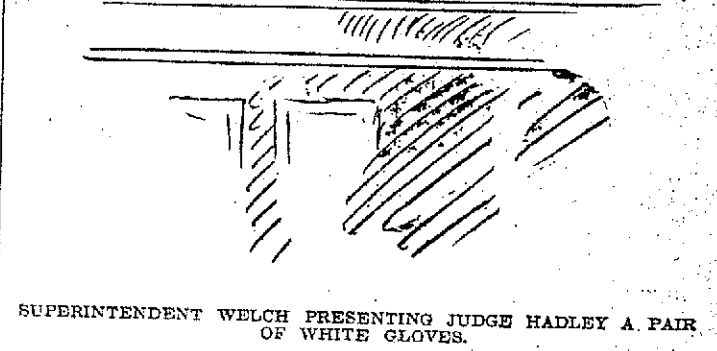

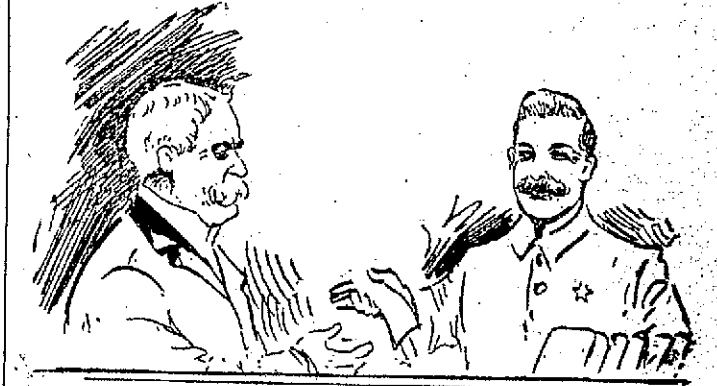

"It should be shown conclusively that Glover was convinced that he was going to die and the evidence I have heard does not come up to such conviction."

Judge Bond cited several cases and told a couple of stories to make clear the point and concluded with the words: "I therefore exclude the evidence."

A recess was immediately announced. The district attorney announced that the government's case would go right on, despite the setback, which he acknowledged to be a severe one.

SPOTLESS TOWN

Judge Hadley Was a Man of Leisure Today

SUPERINTENDENT WELCH PRESENTING JUDGE HADLEY A PAIR OF WHITE GLOVES.

Not a Case of Any Kind in Police Court—Supt. Welch Presents Court a Pair of White Gloves in Honor of the Occasion

Judge Hadley today received something in the nature of a shock, though a pleasant one, upon entering the police court to preside over the daily session.

There was not a case of any kind, new or continued, on the docket. Two drunks were arrested yesterday, but as it was their first offense, they were both released this morning by Probation Officer Slattery.

After the clerk's opening, Supt. Redmond Welch presented his Honor with a dainty pair of white kid gloves, as a symbol of the city's spotlessness. The court thanked the chief of police for his kindness and he sincerely hoped that the occasion might be often repeated.

"This is a very unusual fact," remarked the court, "not to have a single prisoner in the docket, and I doubt very much that there is another city in the United States with a population of 100,000, that can boast of the same thing."

This goes to show that the city of Lowell is not so bad after all. This is the second time within a year that everything is on the dead quiet at police headquarters.

There was a large crowd in attendance and a better bill could not have been selected. Next week the date of the meeting will be Thursday, Dec. 3, instead of Dec. 6. And the bill? Sam Langford and Joe Jeannotte. Nuff said. Don't make any dates for Thursday. Young Boyle of Lowell will meet Johnnie Gallant in a six round preliminary.

SUCH A BEATING

Jimmie Gardner "Came Back" Like a Racer

Lowell Boxer Made Frank Klaus Look Like a Dutch Comedian—Gardner Showed Better Than Ever Before—Freddie Maguire Lost Decision

Jimmie Gardner, Lowell's pride, thoroughly redeemed himself with his many Lowell friends last evening and is once more the Pride of Lowell, only a bigger pride than ever, for last evening at the Armory club Jimmie not only demonstrated that he can come back, but he showed his friends what he is capable of doing when right, putting up the best fight of his career and making Frank Klaus, the Pittsburgh bear-cat, appear more like a pole-cat than the other article.

He so completely outclassed the rough-house Pittsburgher as to make him appear ridiculous in the eyes of the greenest fight fan and toward the close of the encounter the spectators were cheering Klaus with such cries as: "Who ever told you you were a champion?"

"Say, Klaus, Fodge Murphy could lick you."

"O, what a Rummy!" and other kindred remarks that made the Dutchman madder than the traditional hatter.

Before the scrap Klaus confidently told his friends that he expected to put Gardner away in four rounds and his friends were offering odds of ten to six, five and even to four on him. A big Lowell delegation went down and to tell the truth only a valiant minority of them dared to take a chance on Jimmie, as the result of his last bout. When they appeared in the ring Klaus looked much bigger and huskier and the Lowell fans shook their heads doubtfully. But after the going started them away! Then came the change of opinion. After two rounds every Lowell man would bet from his shirt on Gardner, while the Klaus supporters sank their long green in the lowest depths of their jeans and fastened the opening with a safety pin.

Jimmie had been training with such experts as Sam Langford and Joe Thomas, the latter always being in condition, and he stepped into the ring in perfect form. A few hard body punches that Klaus landed failed to have any effect on him, while if the Pittsburgher eats anything more solid than his favorite sausages for a week or more he must have a truly wonderful mouth and jaw.

Both men were in excellent shape.

and it was the cause of the rugged fighter against the skilled boxer, and once more brain beat brawn. Gardner was fast and shifty on his feet. He blocked and ducked to perfection while he used both hands. He was great on judging distances and seldom made a wild swing. Klaus on the other hand was out to land a knockout punch at all cost but after Jimmie got his wonderful left hand going into Klaus face the bear-cat got wild and in some cases swung with such terrific force as to turn a double revolution upon missing. Klaus gave a fine imitation of a maddened bull rushing at a skilled breeder with the inevitable result that the forehead in due time took all the fight out of him. Gardner was perfect cool every moment of the bout and the madder and rougher Klaus grew, the cooler and more at home Jimmie appeared to be. As the fight proceeded Klaus' discomfiture was plainly visible. He would make a huge swing at Jimmie's head only to find either that Jimmie had sidestepped to some other part of the ring or else had covered up as safely as though he had on a suit of armor. The only time that Klaus landed anything like a good blow, the receptive point was the body. He couldn't hit him with a double-barrelled shot gun. Gardner rained a constant shower of left jabs and short upper-cuts together with an occasional straight left punch and his celebrated right hook in sufficient numbers and with sufficient force to lay away most anyone but a real bear-cat. Klaus had a reputation for taking the gaff and he took it in the superlative degree last evening. Several times he was guilty of holding Jimmie's glove and of using his head and once was cautioned by Referee Phlatery. Klaus' remarkable ability to take hard knocks was evidenced by the fact that although he received a thorough beating from the first to the 12th round, at no time did he appear to be in distress and at no time did he bite the dust, though his poor old head received an awful rocking. At the conclusion of the bout Jimmie was just as fresh as when he entered the ring. Joe Thomas presided over the second in Gardner's corner, and his careful instructions had much to do with Jimmie's exceptionally fine showing. From the management down to Klaus' manager, all agreed that it was one of the finest fistie affairs ever pulled off.

The only big disappointment to the Lowell fans was Freddie Maguire's showing against Tom Flanagan of Cambridge. Flanagan got the decision after six rounds, though many of the Lowell fans believed that a draw should have been given. The affair was so nearly even that the management will give the boys another match. Maguire had trained but little for the encounter and had not boxed any Flanagan having a wholesome regard for Freddie's prowess, trained faithfully and showed plainly the good results of training. Flanagan was apparently weary of Freddie for the first few rounds and then started in using a left jab with effect.

The bout between Young Alger and Jack McGovern resulted in favor of Alger, though there was some dissatisfaction because it wasn't called a draw while the bout between Tommy Furry of Attleboro and Joe Nelson of Law-

MAINE WILL BE DRY

Democrats to Enforce Prohibition Laws

NEWPORT, Me., Nov. 30.—It is expected that a few days after Col. Frederick W. Plaisted takes his oath of office as governor Jan. 1, an order will be issued from Augusta that every sheriff in Maine strictly and impartially enforce the laws against the sale of intoxicating liquors. That is the plan of the powers-that-be in the democratic party is said to be a fact by persons high in the party councils.

With democratic sheriffs in two-thirds of the counties in Maine and a democrat in the governor's chair for the first time in 20 years, the party will see if it is possible to have real enforcement of the prohibitory law.

The democrats in their campaign charged the republicans with not impartially enforcing the liquor laws and promised that if elected, they would be to enforce all laws and the prohibitory law in particular.

A meeting of the state democratic committee was held last week in Augusta, at which Governor-elect Plaisted was present. It is said upon excellent authority that the question of enforcing the liquor laws was one of the important matters considered. It is also said that the state committee, without exception, favored real enforcement and were heartily in favor of any plan that would make Maine drier than ever.

Expect to Kill Sturgis Law

It is expected the sheriffs of the 16 counties will be called together soon after Colonel Plaisted takes his seat and the situation will be canvassed. They will be given explicit orders to see that no liquors are sold in their respective counties and will have the assurance that the leaders of the party will stand behind them in doing their duty in this respect.

With the death of the Sturgis law, which is expected to occur early at the coming session of the legislature, the sheriffs will have everything in their own hands. Several of the democratic sheriffs-elect have said openly that they will enforce the law to the letter if it takes the last cent in the county treasuries to pay the costs.

People prominent in the democracy also hint that the hotel men will be called into headquarters and the situation explained. They will be asked to refrain from dealing in intoxicants and to give their assistance in making Maine really "dry." Several well known hotel men have declared that they will quit the liquor business Jan. 1 and will give all assistance to officers in enforcing the law. Others, who have been directly or indirectly interested in the liquor business are said to be in favor of giving the voters of Maine a real taste of real state-wide enforcement and of making every county absolutely dry.

It is expected that barring any unforeseen complications the sixth amendment to the constitution, which is the famous clause making constitutional prohibition in this state, will be resubmitted to a popular vote by the incoming legislature. The democratic platform for years have contained a plank favoring resubmission and this has been the keynote of many campaigns. Now that the party is in power this is certain to be done.

Clubs to Join in Campaign

The special election at which the voters will cast their ballots either for or against constitutional prohibition will probably not be held before September, 1911, and from Jan. 1 to the date of the election the democrats plan to make Maine just as dry as it is possible to make it in order that the voters may see just how real enforced prohibition works. It is said that this plan also meets with the approbation of the officers of the clubs in many of the cities where it has been customary to maintain buffets where liquors might be obtained. These, it is expected, will all be closed tight.

Some of the hotels where it has been customary to dispense liquors to guests and where the revenue was a large part of the hotel's earnings will, it is said, be closed and the proprietors will take a vacation of several months. It is expected the democrats will have more hearty co-operation from all sources in their efforts to make Maine more "dry" than has ever been seen in all of the state's long experience with prohibition.

Some aver that if Maine were given real enforcement for six months the result of the vote would be overwhelmingly for a local option system. Others say real enforcement would be popular and that it would greatly strengthen the prohibitory law.

It can be safely predicted, however, that those who had expected "open times" under the democratic administration will be greatly surprised at the turn affairs will take after the new officials step into power.

Y. M. C. I. MINSTRELS

The Young Men's Catholic Institute will appear in their annual minstrel show in the Immaculate Conception school hall tonight and from the past performances of this organization in minstrel shows, it goes without saying that it will be a continuous laugh from the rise of the curtain till the close. The burlesque, "Oliver Sudden & Co., staged by Frank McCarlin promises to be the biggest hit of the season. The performance will be repeated tomorrow evening.

THE CIVIC LEAGUE

Secretary John H. Murphy, of the board of trade, was present as a member at the meeting yesterday in Boston of the Massachusetts Civic league. He was very much pleased at the discussion of "The Housing Problem," as it was taken up at the meeting, and came back to Lowell with some interesting statistics as given by the speakers at the meeting.

John Reed, a reformed ex-criminal, will deliver a lecture on "My Experiences in Jail, and How I Escaped the Prison," at the First Presbyterian church at 8 o'clock tonight.

THE POLICE BOARD

Gave Hearing on Special Officer's Appointment

The board of police met in regular session last night and the greater part of the open meeting was taken up with the hearing given on the petition from residents of Howard street for the reappointment of Morris Shapiro as a special officer for Howard street and vicinity. While the petition was signed by a majority of the citizens of Howard street, there were a number of other residents of the street and vicinity who objected to the granting of the license.

The license petitioned for by Mr. Shapiro has been a question of debate in the Hebrew colony since last October when his special license ran out and he attempted to have it renewed and from that time until the present there has been discussion in the ranks. When the young man's license ran out a number of the residents petitioned for the renewal of the license, while on the other hand there was almost an equal number who objected to his reappointment.

The final hearing on the matter came up last night and there was a good representation of the residents of the vicinity of Howard street when the meeting was called to order.

Among the witnesses for the petitioner were I. Nagnis, Alexander McCrea, Charles E. Jameson, Edward P. Sanborn, J. Gardner and Inspector Martin Maher. All, with the exception of Mr. Maher, testified as to the need of a special officer in Howard street and the vicinity.

Young Shapiro himself, who said he was a driver for the American Express

Co., told of his efforts to maintain order in Howard street.

Mr. Shapiro referred to his work in the breaking up of crap shooting by boys in Howard street, which, he said, was an every day occurrence. He contended that it was his activity in breaking up private "card parties" which led to the objection to the renewal of his license.

Abraham Wolff objected to the renewal of the license. He said that there was no need for an officer in that section and denied ever having any trouble with boys; though he did admit that a window in a house had been broken. Cross-examined, he denied that he had made a statement to the effect that he would spend $1000 to defeat the reappointment of Shapiro. David Ziskind said that Shapiro had told him that he wanted a special police warrant because it meant 11 points to the young man on the civil service list.

On cross-examination Mr. Ziskind admitted having called upon Shapiro's services as a special officer in the past few weeks.

The board took the matter under advisement and went into executive session at 9:09 o'clock.

The board took the following action in regard to minor licenses: Licenses granted: Common victuallers: Peter Mayrodes, 457 Market street.

Billiards and pool: Deakoulls Secharakis, 424 Suffolk street.

To sell ice cream, etc., on the Lord's day: Ida Petre, 554 Suffolk street.

Surrendered and cancelled: Billiards and pool: James Mitcheas, 424 Suffolk street.

To sell ice cream, etc., on the Lord's day: John H. Eacrat, 554 Suffolk street.

Goes Lynn Case Against the Boston & Northern

Street Railroad Company Fined $25 for Refusing Half Rate Tickets to Evening School Pupil—Temporary Truce Declared Between Road and the School Board

LYNN, Nov. 30.—The Lynn school board, at a special meeting last night, voted, in effect, to stand behind the single case in which the Boston & Northern Street Railway company was fined $25 in a local court for not providing half-rate transportation tickets to an evening school pupil, but not to bring the company into court on further individual cases until the supreme court shall have had opportunity to pass on the original case. This vote, which came on the question of empowering the secretary of the school board to take such action as he might deem necessary to compel the Boston & Northern to furnish such transportation, came during a meeting marked by much discussion.

Mayor James E. Rich had a conference on the subject yesterday with Supt. Frank C. Wilkinson of the street railway company. It is understood that an agreement was reached whereby the evening school pupils will pay a half-rate fare, presenting their school certificates, the conductors to take their names and in the event of a decision by the supreme court adverse to the street railway company, Supt. Wilkinson says the company will refund the difference to the pupils.

By Enthusiasts at Conference of Governors

FRANKFORT, Ky., Nov. 30.—The third annual conference of governors, the first to be held outside of Washington, began a five days' session here yesterday with 24 of the executives of the states present to derive benefits from the experiences of each other.

For several days Governor Willson of Kentucky has made it plain that he would do all in his power to eliminate politics from the conference, and in the preliminary arrangements has done it. However, at the first session yesterday held in the hall of representatives of the new state capitol building, there were two outbursts of political enthusiasm. One was when Gov. Judson Harmon of Ohio entered the hall. He was greeted by slight handclapping, which was accorded no other governor. The moment the meeting adjourned a man in the gallery called for cheers for Mr. Harmon.

With a frown, Governor Willson raised his hand and stopped whatever progress the suggestion might have made. He said such a demonstration was entirely out of place and would not be tolerated. He had already laid stress on this feature when in his opening remarks he stated that the governors were called together for a "house of governors," as previous meetings had been termed. Governor Willson then read a letter from President Taft regretting his absence, in which he said:

"I have great sympathy with the objects of your meeting which I understand to be for the general national welfare by uniformity of state legislation upon subjects having general national interest which are not by the constitution, entrusted to congress and the central government. I wish for your meeting the most successful issue in substantial results."

Governor Pothier of Rhode Island responded to the welcoming addresses of Governor Willson and Mayor Polson of Frankfort, after which the visiting party and several prominent Kentuckians were entertained at luncheon. At the latter session Governor-elect Woodrow Wilson of New Jersey delivered an address on "The Possibilities of the Governors' Conference."

Last night Governor and Mrs. Willson gave a reception at the governor's mansion.

Adopted by the School Board Last Night

The regular meeting of the school board was held last night at city hall. The committee on books and supplies recommended the purchase of two No. 10 B "Star" engine lathes, equipped with milling attachment, for the manual training department of the high school.

It was voted to give a certificate of the first grade to George F. Lee, Boston college, 1908, and one of the second grade to Miss Mary Z. Martin, Smith college, 1910. The following rules governing the licensing of minors selling newspapers were adopted:

1.—No minor under 14 years of age shall, in any street or public place of the city of Lowell, work as a boot-black, or sell or expose for sale any books, newspapers, pamphlets, fuel, fruits, provisions, ice, live animals, brooms, agricultural implements, hand tools used in making boots and shoes, agricultural products of the United States or the products of his own labor or the labor of his family, unless he has been granted a minor's license in accordance with the provisions of chapter 55, section 17, revised laws, and chapter 331 of the acts of 1902. All such licenses shall be granted by the supervisor of licensed minors subject to the approval of the school committee, and said licensed minors shall wear a badge issued by the supervisor.

2.—When a badge has been lost, the licensee losing it shall immediately report his loss to the supervisor, who shall issue a duplicate badge.

3.—A charge of 25 cents shall be made for the use of each badge or of each duplicate badge.

4.—The minor shall conform to the statutes, the ordinances of the city of Lowell, and the regulations of the school committee.

5.—He shall, so long as he continues to be licensed, attend every session thereof, one of the public schools, or some regularly established school in the city of Lowell, unless excused from such attendance in accordance with the provisions of the statutes.

6.—He shall not sell, lend or give his badge to any one, nor furnish any unlicensed minor with newspapers or other articles to sell.

7.—He shall not sell newspapers in or on a street car, nor during school hours, nor before 6 o'clock in the morning, nor after 6 o'clock in the evening, except during the period from April 15 to October 15, when he shall sell no papers before 6 o'clock in the morning nor after 9 o'clock in the evening, and except on days of national, state or city elections, when he shall not sell papers after 10 o'clock in the evening.

8.—He shall not at any time, while engaged in working as a bootblack, or selling articles in public places, congregate with other persons, nor make any unnecessary noise, nor in any way disturb or annoy persons as they pass, nor obstruct free passage of any sidewalk, or entrance to any public place.

9.—He shall not at any time, while working or selling, fail to wear his badge conspicuously in sight, in such position as may be designated by the supervisor.

10.—Any minor who violates any of the foregoing provisions of the regulations will be deprived of his license and badge and will be subject to a fine.

11.—The supervisor may suspend a license for a period not exceeding two weeks, or revoke a license, subject to the approval of the school committee.

12.—Applications, licenses and badges shall be in such form as may be approved by the supervisor.

DIAMOND BUTTONS

FOR UMPIRES IN WORLD'S B. B. SERIES

CHICAGO, Nov. 30.—President Johnson of the American league said yesterday there would be diamond buttons for the four umpires who participated in the world's series, just the same as for the twenty-three members of the victorious Philadelphia team. In the past the national commission has managed to deliver the buttons to the manager of the owner of the winning club. This new departure will provide for emblems for Hank O'Day, Charles Rigler, Tommy Connolly and Jack Sheridan, the arbiters, as well as for President Ben Shibe and Manager Cornelius Magillieuddy of the Athletics and President Thomas L. Lyons of the National league. The emblems will be forwarded to the players and officials within a few days, according to President Johnson.

20 FATALITIES

DURING HUNTING SEASON IN MICHIGAN

CALUMET, Mich., Nov. 30.—During the deer hunting season, which opened Nov. 10 and closed today, there were 46 accidents in the upper peninsula of Michigan, 20 of which were fatal. More deaths are expected.

Practically all the accidents were due to carelessness, several fatalities being caused by the ignorant handling of firearms by green hunters. In four cases men who killed persons accidentally left their victims to die unattended. In 23 cases hunters were shot by mistake for deer. More game fell and more hunters were killed or maimed in northern Michigan this season than in any year. The slaughter of deer is estimated at 5000.

The painting is to cost $2000 and the money will be raised by subscription. Mayor John F. Fitzgerald was made chairman of the committee to have charge of the matter.

LETTER REMAILED

After Being Lost in Mail Six Years

Not at all discouraged over the non-delivery of her letter of Christmas and New Year greetings since she first mailed it, Dec. 23, 1904, Mrs. Frank Marsh Merrill of this city, to whom the letter was returned by the postal authorities yesterday after a mysterious voyage of six years, redirected it to her Nantucket friends, one of whom has since become a "Mrs."

The letter was originally directed to "The Misses Swain, 185 Congress street, Boston." Delivery to 185 Congress street was safely accomplished, but the Misses Swain had gone to Nantucket; so the letter was redirected and sent there. The letter was received in Nantucket by someone and later mailed back to Boston.

It was a year after the original mailing that the second attempt was made to deliver the letter to 185 Congress street. The Misses Swain were not there and it started back to Nantucket. Again it failed to reach the women addressed, for they had either left the island at that time or the postmaster could not find them. The letter was returned to Lowell, New Year.

HOT AFTER LODGE

Anti-Imperialists Denounce and Oppose Him

BOSTON, Nov. 30.—The Anti-Imperialist league adopted strong resolutions against the re-election of Senator Lodge at its twelfth annual meeting yesterday afternoon, not one of the 150 present voting against the resolve.

The fact is that ALLEOTONE cures a cold, gripe, cough, throat trouble or feverish condition quicker and more surely than any other remedy. The explanation is that ALLEOTONE is made exclusively from the substances from which your body is made.

presented in a letter by the Rev. John Snyder of Nantucket and which declared that Senator Lodge "has said and done nothing in favor of human rights during the eighteen years of his service in the Senate."

Dr. Berle Joins Attack

The Rev. Dr. A. A. Berle, pastor of the Shawmut Congregational church, also assailed the senior senator in a fiery speech, urging the members of the league to organize to prevent his return to the senate. The text of the resolution was as follows: "Resolved, That the Anti-Imperialist league, assembled for its annual meeting, desires to protest against the choice of the Hon. Henry Cabot Lodge as a senator from Massachusetts. "Mr. Lodge opposed the most enlightened and patriotic statesmen even of his own party, and notably his distinguished colleague, the Hon. George Frisbie Hoar, by urging the acquisition of the Philippine Islands, and he has persistently refused assent to the request and urgent appeal of the inhabitants for a promise of independence. During the eighteen years of his service in the senate he has said and done nothing in favor of human rights, but has consistently supported an aggressive policy in dealing with foreign nations, and the extravagant expenditure for ships, forts and like purposes which such a policy entails. "As friends of human liberty and peace among men we oppose his re-election."

Dr. Berle said in his opening remarks that many speakers at the Lake Mohonk conference last summer urged the American people to keep their eyes on the Philippine Islands and to demand greater publicity in the affairs of the archipelago. "We can hasten this situation in Massachusetts by consolidating the state and preventing Henry Cabot Lodge from going from going back to the senate," he declared. "His presence in the senate is more dangerous than that of those men openly allied with predatory interests. The paramount duty is to organize this league in Massachusetts so every legislator shall be convinced that if Mr. Lodge is sent back to the senate we will reckon with them here and now. It is the first chance to strike the man who is responsible for this condition."

TARIFF BOARD

WILL BE DINED AT CHICAGO SATURDAY

CHICAGO, Nov. 30.—Leaders of many big business organizations from all the large cities of the country have been invited to attend a dinner tendered in honor of President Taft's tariff board by the chamber of commerce here Saturday. The president, it is understood, has authorized James B. Reynolds, Henry C. Emory, and Alvin H. Sanders, members of the tariff board, to make important revelations regarding the board's work and the nature of its progress to date.

Mr. Emory, according to announcement, will present in the most direct and simple manner a brief account of what the tariff board has done, what the nature of its inquiry is, what results it believes can be obtained, what things it considers possible of achievement, and what powers of inquiry are best fitted to achieve the really important results.

MISS TAFT'S DEBUT

Brilliant Occasion at White House Tomorrow

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30.—Society here is making extensive preparations for the "coming out" of Miss Helen Taft at the White House Thursday. The young debutante is a person of much consequence in the capital, and a great many acceptances have been received by Mrs. Taft for the formal debut of her daughter.

Miss Taft is far from a stranger to Washington and has a host of acquaintances among the girls of her own age. The White House circle has so long looked upon the young lady as a child that it will be a novelty for it to see her in the role of a young woman of society; yet Miss Taft showed her social capability last spring, when she took Mrs. Taft's place as hostess at a dinner given in honor of a visiting Japanese prince.

The president's daughter will be one of the best educated girls ever presented to Washington society. Her schooling has been very thorough and she has inherited the intellectual and social gifts of her parents.

NARROW ESCAPE RECOUNT ENDED

Two Families Caught in Tenement Fire

MANCHESTER, N. H., Nov. 30.—Nine persons narrowly escaped from fire early yesterday morning in the 24-story house at 248 Sullivan street, and were forced to flee in their night clothes and take refuge with neighbors.

The house was occupied by the families of J. F. Luchla and James Merrill. The fire started from a defective chimney in the Merrill kitchen. Mrs. Merrill was awakened from her sleep and called to her husband, telling him that she smelled smoke. Mr. Merrill ran into the kitchen and found the room full of fire. He ran back and notified Mr. and Mrs. Luchla upstairs. The children of the Merrill family were then carried to safety outside. Mr. Merrill tried to save some of his furniture, but the smoke was so thick and the heat so great that this was impossible. The fire burned up to the second floor and quickly spread through that tenement and to the empty attic. Five lines of hose were laid and the flames were soon under control.

The house is owned by Charles Eastman. The loss is nearly $2500, the L being burned and the front part badly damaged by smoke and water. The furniture was partly covered by insurance, but Mr. Merrill will lose a considerable sum. He has three children, Cary, 5 months old; William, 2 years, and James, 5 1/2 years. The persons living with him are Arthur Merrill and Lew Merrill. Mr. Merrill is an employee of the local gas company. His children were removed to the home of Mrs. Cutler, 293 South street, where a sister of his wife lives.

DAN O'LEARY

SHOWING THE ATHLETES HOW TO WALK IN OHIO

The following is from the Cincinnati Enquirer:

Dan O'Leary, the veteran Chicago pedestrian, who is here to look over prospective material to enter the six-day heel-and-toe walking match to be held in St. Louis next February, and for which over $1000 will be offered in prizes, headed a bunch of local walkers on a jaunt to Charlestown, Ind., and return, yesterday. The party, composed of James Welsh, Peter Pan-chet, Charles De Pass, William J. Donovan, J. C. Winkler, and Dan O'Leary, left Fourth and Market streets yesterday morning at 8 o'clock and arrived in Charlestown at 11:35 o'clock.

Their route was via the New Albany bridge, and the distance covered was about thirty-five miles.

O'Leary, despite his sixty-seven years of age, set the pace.

The party left Charlestown at 12 o'clock noon and arrived in Louisville at 3 o'clock in the afternoon. Next Sunday the party will walk either to Cincinnati or Mammoth Cave.

WOMEN FIRST, PLEASE

"Women First, Please," the sign which confronts one on entering the cars of the Boston Elevated company, is being freely criticized by some of the gentlemen of Boston. These men feel that it implies impoliteness on the part of the gentlemen, and that it is unjust to men hurrying to their homes after a hard day's work to hold them back often to lose their cars and arrive home late. There are two sides to this as to every other question, and while nobody objects to paying due deference to women in public places, it is hardly right to hold back an old man or even a young man tired after a hard day's work when he is hurrying to catch his car. What he and others dislike is being held back by women who are out shopping and in a hurry.

Men in a hurry don't relish having to stand aside and await the leisurely movements of women who are out for pleasure and not in a hurry. This arrangement is not calculated to promote fast time on the elevated lines.

THIS STATE CLOSED TO TRAMPS

The Civic League of Massachusetts reports this state free from tramps. It is not that there are no tramps but that they are not harbored here at night without being brought into police court as vagrants next day. For that reason they keep out of this state and hence we no longer find any of the places of rendezvous for the knights of the road that were formerly so common.

It is a good thing to keep them out for the reason that the visitation of any large number means that depredations of one kind or another are pretty sure to follow. Moreover, they go from house to house in quest of food and often terrorize women where they call. Of course tramps must be cared for somewhere, and when they are found here they are usually sent to the state farm at Bridgewater.

It was formerly the custom to harbor tramps at the city farm and even at the police station, and then the number of daily visitants was very large. They were not sumptuously treated but the lodging was the main thing sought by them.

The absence of tramps on the streets of Massachusetts cities is frequently noted by strangers, and it gives them a greater feeling of security wherever they go.

MARRIAGE TOO LIGHTLY REGARDED

Rev. Dr. Cady in a sermon to his congregation in Boston on Sunday startled his hearers with the plainness of his discourse on marriage. He said young people are allowed to grow up without any knowledge of the sacred things of life and plunge into marriage without the knowledge or the self-control to adjust it to themselves. What Dr. Cady said in this respect is very largely true. It is also as he says that the high cost of living deters many from getting married, and that the entrance of woman into industrial life operates powerfully for the destruction of the family. Women who earn good wages are unwilling to give up their positions to take the risks of poverty in matrimony. That is certainly one great reason why there are so many old maids.

There is another phase of the subject on which Dr. Cady spoke with emphasis. It is the facilities offered for divorce. Divorce, he says, is the resort of the rich, not the poor, for the indulgence of the polygamist instinct and unfortunately many states seem to favor this abuse by the laxity of their laws. It is true that divorce is far more prevalent among the wealthy than among the poor. The latter have families that as a rule hold them together, but if in any case a married couple who are poor must separate they do so without resorting to divorce.

Rev. Dr. Cady told how numerous divorced people are at fashionable resorts like Newport, R. I., it being a common thing to find 50 per cent. of the ladies at so-called social functions, "women of record" or otherwise, divorced. It is really an alarming state of affairs, and if the stories of the cases were known the conditions might appear even worse.

SOME IMMIGRATION PROBLEMS.

One of the greatest problems to be discussed by the conference of governors at Frankfort, Ky., is that of distributing immigration to the parts of the country in which it is most needed and to restrict the further crowding of the cities along the eastern coast to the injury of skilled workmen, thousands to public health and disappointment to themselves.

Thousands of the immigrants would have been far better off in their native land when they are here, endeavoring to eke out a living in the crowded factory cities of the east. Most of them were not accustomed to factory life and succeed at it only after long experience. Were they sent out to the farms in Kansas and other states where the crops are very heavy and labor scarce, these European immigrants would accomplish more. They would feel more at home and they would be more successful.

As our immigration is conducted now there is very little attention given its distribution with the result that hundreds of cities that have too many idle already are overrun with unskilled labor ready to do anything to earn a dollar.

We might learn a valuable lesson in the art of colonization from Canada which has a much better system of regulating immigration than we have yet attempted. Moreover, the Canadian immigrants are all doing good work in their respective spheres whether it be as farm laborers or men to help build the railroads and state highways.

In order to direct the immigration as to its destination, it would be necessary to have booking agents at foreign ports in order that immigrants would not be imposed upon by cunning agents who want only their money.

SEEN AND HEARD

Two burglars were on their trial and had engaged a smart lawyer for their defense, who, on cross-examining one of the witnesses, said: "You say that on the night in question the moon was so bright that you could see the burglars in the room. Was your husband awake at the time?"

Witness—"I don't know."
"Was his face turned toward you or not?"
The witness answered that she did not know.

"What! You don't know? Now, come, tell me, was his face turned toward you or the wall?"
"I don't know."

"Ah, ha! I thought so," (turning to the jury), "he could not see his wife's husband's face was turned. Explain that, if you can."
"Well, sir, my husband is so bald that in a dim light I can't tell his face from the back of his head."

She had just graduated from the high school, and Harold, who had fallen before her charms, not the least of which to him was her interest in mechanics, was laying constant siege. As soon as his new motor boat was launched he forthwith invited Phyllis for a trial spin down the Potomac. As she sat beside him, jannily clad in a brand new yachting suit, she turned upon the swim a rapid fire battery of questions, asking everything imaginable about the boat and filling him with fond joy. At length her eye lit upon a circular life-buoy fastened to the rail that ran around the stern.

"What's that for, Harold?" she asked after gazing awhile at the device.
"That's in case of accident," replied Harold.
For a long time the maiden pondered in deep thought. Then her face lit up with a satisfied intelligence.
"O, I see now!" she exclaimed, beaming on Harold. "You were afraid you might have an accident while I was with you and brought along that extra life like papa carries on the au-

BREAKING OUT ALL OVER BODY

Itched Dreadfully. When Scratched It would Bleed and Become Very Sore. Could Scarcely Sleep as the Itching was Worse at Night. Dreaded Putting Hands in Water.

Used Cuticura Soap and Ointment 3 Weeks. Trouble All Disappeared.

"Some time ago I had a breaking out all over my body. It first started like what we call goose flesh and itched dreadfully. When I scratched it, it would bleed and become very sore. I tried all kinds of ointments, but none gave me much relief. I could scarcely sleep as the itching was always worse at night. My hands were so sore I dreaded putting them in water and after I would wash dishes or do laundry work that required the use of other soaps they were always worse. This went on for about six months. Then I used Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment, and in two or three weeks the trouble all disappeared. I always found that my hands were worse (with a dry scale on them) after using any cheap soap but the Cuticura Soap produced such a soothing feeling on my skin that it was a pleasure to use it. I also knew what the Cuticura Remedies have done for a friend of mine, so I would recommend them to any one. Mrs. Delaware Barrett, 611 King St., Wilmington, Del., Nov. 15, 1909."

TOBACCO. It was awfully thoughtful of you!

A local politician, stopping in a Harbinger hotel, a few days ago was approached by a bellboy with a telegram.

"Dollar and twenty-five cents charges," said the boy. The politician glared.

"Well, I never heard of such a thing!" he ejaculated angrily. "A dollar and a quarter, please! I won't pay it. I won't take the telegram! I'll send it back! I never heard of such a thing! No, who in Sam Hill is sending me a message like that? A dollar and twenty-five cents charges! That's outrageous! These chaps get nervier every day. A dollar and—"

His curiosity getting the better of him, he took the telegram from the silver tray and opened it gingerly.

Then suddenly his face changed, and he smiled at peace with the world.

"It's all right," he said to the boy. "Here's your money. It's all right." He turned to the man with whom he had been talking when the messenger came.

"Want to read it?" he chuckled.

"That was the telegram: 'Papa's little girl sends him bushels and bushels of love and 100,000 kisses, and wishes he was here to watch mama tuck her in—bed and kiss her good-night. Be a good papa and come home soon.' Betty." Philadelphia Times.

When the clock's chime low,
And the street's hum low,
And life is at its ebb.

As we near the goal,
When the golden bow
Shall be broken at its fount;
With what sweetest thought
Shall the stars be found,
What precious morn shall we count?

Not the flame of the sword,
Nor the weight we have stored
In perishable things of earth—
Not the way we have trod
Through the land of the dead,
Though that were of precious worth.

Nor the gain we have achieved,
Through the hearts we have grieved,
And left unhealed by the way.
Nor the laurel of fame
Given for worldly acclaim,
We loathe in the heat and the fray.

Ah, no! 'tis not these
That give our hearts ease,
When life sinks low in the west;
But the passing sweet thought
Of the good we have wrought,
The saddened lives we have blest.

And the love we have won,
And the love beckoning on
From the islands far and dim;
Leave out of the light,
Shut them into the night,
The night which leadeth to Him.

A NEW ECZEMA REMEDY

The new compound, Cadum, has astonished those who used it. Many cures of eczema and other distressing skin diseases are reported, and the remarkable thing in most cases is the quickness of the cure. Eczema is not a blood disease, but a skin affection. It cannot be cured by internal medicines. External treatment is absolutely necessary. Since the introduction of Cadum, eczema is now recognized as a curable disease, and that tormenting affliction has been robbed of its terrors. Cadum stops the itching at once and begins the healing process soon after it is applied. It is also good for pimples, blotches, hives, tetters, psoriasis, acne, herpes, scaly skin, rash, chafings, eruptions, sores, scabs, itching, piles, etc. 10c and 25c a box.

JAMES HATHAWAY

WELL KNOWN CATTLE EXPORTER IS DEAD

BOSTON, Nov. 30.—James A. Hathaway, one of the largest exporters of cattle in the country, died of paralysis at his home in Brighton yesterday. Mr. Hathaway was born in Freetown in 1837. He entered the provision business in Fall River and later came to Boston. He entered into co-partnership with E. F. Swift of the Swift Bros. Co. and engaged in buying cattle. Later he conducted his own business, his annual shipments reaching 20,000 head of beef cattle.

Mr. Hathaway was formerly president of the Border City cotton mills and Sagamore Mill Co. of Fall River. He was in the state legislature at one time and had been a director of several banks.

CALEDONIAN CLUB

WILL OBSERVE BURNS' ANNIVERSARY ON GRAND SCALE

Members of the Lowell Caledonian club have been for some time past, and are still busy planning ahead for the successful consummation of an annual event which promises to be of more than usual importance Jan. 25th next.

For over thirty years the Lowell Caledonians have celebrated these birthday occasions in honor of the famous life-sized oil painting of the famous Scottish bard, Robert Burns, which we believe is one of its kind, if not the first and only one of its kind in America. The painting is the outgrowth of a simple little net of counter-extended by the club many months ago to a prominent propagator, and highly respected business man of this city. Not content with ordinary methods of expressing gratitude, however, the generous giver could find adequate relief to his feelings only through his pocketbook—culminating in a costly portrait painting of the Scottish poet, as well as an everlasting relic to the donor's memory, to be henceforth cherished by the Lowell Caledonian club. But, aside from all that, the giver is a man of broad, liberal views and extensive traveling experiences in the British Isles—especially that of Scotland and Ireland, to whose people he is strongly devoted, particularly the Burns and Moore types of men. Imbued with these tendencies and possessed with a broad international spirit generally, prompted, no doubt, the limit of generosity. The donor will personally make the presentation to the Lowell Caledonian club Jan. 25th next, and Water Commissioner McDowell, the club's chief, will formally accept the gift on behalf of the organization. Insurance for $2000 will be carried on the portrait which will find a permanent home in the new club rooms soon to be acquired to accommodate the rapid growth in membership. A delegation has been lately appointed to visit New York city in the near future to pass upon the building now nearing completion in the studio of Prof. Pond, one of New York's leading artists.

Andrew Carnegie, the retired steel magnate, now at his New York residence, will be here during the presentation, health permitting, and Mayor Logan of Worcester, a prominent member of the club, will also visit the Spindle City on that occasion. Other big men of the commonwealth whose presence is assured will be announced later.

The merriment will, with the aid of Hubbard's full orchestra, continue well into the "ace sum" hours in the morning, which will then have exhausted an elaborate program, beginning with an excellent menu. Robbie Burns will be in evidence from beginning to end, to wit—

"Some hae meat and canna eat,
An' some wad eat that wadn't eat,
But we hae meat an' we can eat,
Sae let the Lord be thankit."

BROWN ALUMNI

BANQUETED FOOTBALL TEAM LAST NIGHT

BOSTON, Nov. 30.—Singing ringing songs which demanded the defeat of Harvard next year and prophesied a meeting with Dartmouth on the gridiron in the near future, the Brown university alumni in Boston and vicinity last night banqueted the football team which on Nov. 5th administered the 1 to 6 defeat to Yale. The banquet was held at Young's hotel and was enthusiastically unbounded.

Prof. Courtney Langdon represented the university and led in the speaking. Captain-elect Spradling, Captain McKay, Supervisor of Athletics Marvell, Coach Edward N. Robinson and Geo. Dean, former mayor of Woburn, and Speaker Joseph I. Walker of the Massachusetts house of representatives, were among the speakers.

Supervisor Marvell made an urgent plea for "prep" school athletics to turn toward the college on the hill. "The singing was led by Charles Towne, '71, and Al Chaffee, '92."

STANDARD OIL

IS IN BAD WITH AUSTRIAN GOVERNMENT

VIENNA, Nov. 30.—The controversy between the Austrian authorities and the Standard Oil company, a branch of the Standard oil company, has reached a new and acute stage. The Austrian foreign office has refused to continue negotiations with the American embassy, which has been protesting against the alleged discrimination of the government against this company. The foreign office maintains its position that the Vacuum company is registered as a Hungarian company and therefore must be subject to the same regulations as other companies with a similar registration and that the question at issue is purely a matter for Austrian internal administration.

The American ambassador, Richard C. Kerens, declines to accept the foreign office's view but at the present moment the conflict is at a deadlock.

ARNOLD DIVORCE CASE

Brought to Test State Divorce Laws

BOSTON, Nov. 30.—Admitting that Alice M. Arnold, who filed a divorce libel against her husband yesterday afternoon at the Suffolk court house, naming as respondent his present wife, Mrs. Virginia Edwards Arnold, was married to him on Dec. 1, 1894, and that she bore him a son, now 14, Sheffield A. Arnold, the landscape artist, declared last night at his home, 1935 Beacon street, Brookline, that he was granted a divorce from her in Nevada, after she had attempted to extort money from him.

Test of State Laws
He believes, he said, that this present action will be nothing but a test case to determine if a divorce given in one state under its own laws shall be legally recognized in another state.

Mrs. Arnold charges her husband with desertion on Feb. 5, 1910. She has had Mr. Arnold's property attached in the sum of $10,000. She asks for alimony for herself and custody of her son, Sheffield, Jr., who lives with her. Mrs. Arnold, who was Miss Alice Pelker of Dorchester, was located last night at 10 King street, in that section where she is living with relatives. She had nothing to say, or, if she had, she didn't say it. Earlier in the day Frank H. Noyes, her attorney, had stated Mrs. Arnold was too ill to be seen and had refused to discuss her whereabouts. "In a few days," said Mr. Noyes, "my client is well enough, she will make a statement to the public." Arnold married his client in 1894. Last year he went to Reno, got a divorce from her and married Miss Edwards on the strength of it. We claim the divorce was not legal, that it is not a valid cause for separation and that it does not give the right to remarry."

Mr. Arnold's Story

Mr. Arnold said last night: "Alice M. Arnold and I were married in 1894, when she was only 16 and I was 18. On this account our married life was never happy. As soon as I thought our boy was able to bear his part of the responsibility, I brought an action for divorce. At that time I was a legal resident of the state of Nevada, having lived there the requisite length of time. Everything was done legally, papers were served on Mrs. Arnold and she was given her choice of the forty days given her in which to file an answer. She, through her attorney, attempted to extort a sum of money from me, which I did not have and which, if I had, I would not have given her. At any rate, the divorce was granted. "At that time I had no intention of returning here, but business interests were such I had to. Now that action is brought, I think it will be nothing but a test case. I have sent Mrs. Arnold money to buy clothes for the boy and I know she has spent it on herself, for the boy has come to me whimpering for clothes. I have bought him many clothes myself. She sent him to work."

Mr. Arnold is prominent in Brookline society. His offices are at 4 Beacon street, Boston. He was formerly a newspaper man. The present Mrs. Arnold is a statuesque blonde of pronounced personal charm. The couple have a child, born about two months ago.

CHILD MARRIAGES

TO AVOID COMPULSORY EDUCATION LAW

NEW YORK, Nov. 30.—New York's board of education is alarmed over the increasing marriages of Italian girls of 16 years or less, who become wives with their parents' consent in order to avoid the compulsory education law. Edward B. Shallow, who is in charge of the department of compulsory education, said last night that 15 girls all under 16 and several under 14 had married and left school within the last three months.

FOSS HEADS LIST

Gave $34,000 Towards State Campaign

BOSTON, Nov. 30.—It costs the democratic state committee $36,419.12 to run their state campaign this year, and this, with back bills of $6,058.70, brought the total expenditures of the year up to $42,477.82. As the contributions footed up $12,538.90, this leaves an apparent balance in the hands of Treasurer Charles F. Roridan of $71.08.

Heading the list of contributors was Governor-elect Foss, who, according to Treasurer Roridan's return to the secretary of state, turned over to Chairman Macleod during the year checks totaling $34,912.25.

Next in the list comes Humphrey O'Sullivan of Lowell, chairman of the finance committee, who gave $1820. Thomas C. Thatcher of Barnstable, candidate for congress to succeed Eugene M. Foss, is down for $1,172.50. Col. William A. Gaston, candidate for United States senator, contributed $1000.

The three-figure givers are headed by Charles S. Hamlin, gubernatorial candidate, with $275. Mayor Fitzgerald and ex-representative Daniel J. Reilly of Ward 8 each gave $250. The $200 contributors were ex-Mayor Josiah Quincy, Gen. Charles H. Taylor and E. A. Grozier.

Then come the $100 gifts, and these were from Arthur T. Lyman of Waltham, Daniel F. Doherty of Westfield, ex-congressman Joseph H. O'Neill of Boston, Joseph B. Russell, Sherman L. Whipple, Charles S. Lilly, Henry E. Russell, representative Frank Curless of Sheffield and City Treasurer Chas. H. Slattery of Boston. Treasurer George M. Harlow of the Foss nominating committee makes return that Mr. Foss' nomination cost him but $237, all of which he himself contributed. The expenses included $38.40 paid out by Treasurer Harlow on trips to Springfield and Lawrence to meet party leaders, $32 paid to canvassers for names for the independent nomination papers and $118.10 which the Quincy House "night before" headquarters cost.

One other return came in yesterday from the National Republican league, of which John Hays Hammond is the head, which expended $278.10 during its campaign in Massachusetts. As Mr. Hammond contributed $310, there is a very comfortable balance on the right side. The expenses include $30 paid out to organize clubs, $33.75 for printing and postage, $144.45 for hotel headquarters and $69.90 for railroad fare.

STEAMSHIP LOBBY

HEARING BEFORE CONGRESSIONAL COMMITTEE

NEW YORK, Nov. 30.—Testimony that steamship companies which are owned abroad absolutely control American shipping and have spent money freely to foster feeling against an American marine was offered yesterday before the congressional committee holding sessions here to investigate charges that a steamship lobby was maintained at Washington. William H. Douglas, who formerly represented a New York district in congress was the witness who made these statements.

"As conditions are now," Mr. Douglas testified, "the American merchant is handicapped. The foreign steamship owners make a rate at Hamburg, London and Paris that controls the export shipment of an article to this country. Even if the American should charter a steamer for his own freight he would not be able to obtain additional freight to make up a cargo."

"Similar conditions govern trade between the United States and South America. Mr. Douglas said, as all the lines plying between the two countries are owned abroad, and foreign steamship companies, he asserted, had spent money freely to influence sentiment against American shipping.

"By preparing articles for the newspapers which were widely distributed, and the employment of agents," Mr. Douglas added that although foreign companies had used whatever legislation and had men to represent them in Washington, they had not violated any law. And his testimony, he said, should be taken as facts rather than criticism.

MILLER ARRESTED

FOR ALLEGED VIOLATION OF COMMERCE LAW

SAVANNAH, Ga., Nov. 30.—Harvey C. Miller, wealthy club man, president of the Southern Steamship company and of L. F. Miller & Sons, grain merchants of Philadelphia, was arrested here yesterday by United States marshals on the charge of violating the United States commerce law of Feb. 4, as amended. "In that he did unlawfully obtain transportation in interstate at less than the established and legal rate."

It is stated that the basis for the warrant, which was sworn out before United States Commissioner Hewlett here, was the shipment of grain by L. F. Miller & Sons from Philadelphia to Jacksonville via Savannah at a less than published rate for grain between the two points.

Practically every institution of learning in the United States was represented, while delegations from colleges in several foreign lands were present by special invitation.

COAST DEFENSE

OBJECT OF CANADA'S NEW NAVY

OTTAWA, Ont., Nov. 30.—Speaking upon Canada's naval policy before parliament last night, Sir Wilfrid Laurier declared that the new navy was designed entirely for coast defense. He had no fear that there ever would be an invasion of eastern Canada, for such an invasion could be made only by the United States. With Russia, Japan and China as neighbors of British Columbia, the situation on the Pacific coast was different, the premier said. Canada must prepare a naval defense on the Pacific.

EXPERT INJURED

ENCOUNTERED EXPLOSIVES IN DOOR OF SAFE

MALDEN, Nov. 30.—Not knowing that the burglars who had attempted to blow open a safe at Richmond, Me., last week, had used nitro-glycerine between the plates of the door, Summer H. Sandberg of this city struck one of the plates with a heavy iron bar and was blown several feet by the force of the explosion. He is now at his home on Rockingham avenue, Malden, in care of a specialist, the force of the explosion having caused him to bleed from the ears, nose and mouth.

Sandberg is an expert safe opener and was called to Richmond to open the damaged strong box. After carefully washing the explosive from the keyhole where the burglars had poured it, he struck the blow that nearly resulted in fatal injuries.

INFECTIOUS HOSPITAL

City Council Provides for Preliminary Steps

Members of Commission Mentioned to Superintend the Work—Increase of Wages for Street Department Causes Discussion—$60,000 Loan Order for New Pump Was Passed by Both Boards

Special meetings of both branches of the city council were held last night. Mayor Moehan called the meetings to take action on matters concerning the infectious hospital and besides appropriating the $1000 recommended by the committee on appropriations the city council advanced to its final stage the ordinance creating a commission to whose care will be trusted the building of the hospital. The $1000 is for preliminary work, preparation of plans, etc. While the commission has not been appointed it was unofficially stated last night it would be made up of Dr. James J. McCarthy, chairman of the board of charities, Dr. G. Forrest Martin, chairman of the board of health, Dr. Joseph H. Lamoureux, chairman of the school board, and John W. Robinson, a well known contractor.

While the sole purpose of the special meetings had to do with the contagious hospital, other things of considerable importance developed, including the matter of the appropriation of $2000 additional for street laborers. The sparrow men have been looking for an increase of 25 cents a day and they are still looking for it. The demonstrators put the matter up to their republican brethren last night and the order was adopted by both branches. It will, however, come up later on a notice of reconsideration.

The $60,000 loan order for a new pump for the Centralville pumping station was passed by both boards. Other orders favored by both boards included $6000 for the board of health and state aid department and $800 for storm guards for the Church street bridge.

Board of Aldermen

Chairman Gray called to order at 8:30 and read the call for the special meeting. There were seven members present. Messrs. Brennan and Wainwright were the absentees, but Mr. Brennan arrived later.

The joint report of the committee on appropriations recommending the appropriation of $1000 for a contagious and infectious hospital, was read and referred to the committee on ordinance and legislation. The mayor will be a member, ex-officio, of the commission.

In order to hasten the project on its way the suspension of rule nine was unanimously voted and that opened the way for final action on the contagious hospital matter.

A report of the joint committee on ordinance and legislation was read. This report concerned adverse action on ordinances concerning the making out of tax bills by the assessors' department instead of the city treasurer's.

A resolution to accept and approve a plan of the Boston & Northern Street Railway company for the extension of tracks from Lakeview avenue to the Draught line, was adopted.

Many joint reports of the street committee were read and accepted. A joint resolution to accept a non-exclusive sidewalk in Powell street was adopted.

A joint order to borrow $2000 to buy an automobile for the chief of the fire department, was read. The order was adopted. Mr. Carmichael voting against. He gave notice of a reconsideration to be taken at the next meeting.

A joint resolution to take in free land at the corner of Plain and London streets, for school purposes, was read. The area of the land is about 15,000 square feet. The resolution was adopted.

The Pump Order
The joint order to borrow $65,000 for a pump for the Centralville pumping station came up and, on recommendation of the committee on appropriations, was defeated. A substitute order for $60,000 was then read and adopted.

A joint order appropriating $6000 for the state aid and health departments was adopted. The money will be expended as follows: $3500 for state aid, $2000 for wages for health yard department, and $100 for sundries for the milk inspector.

More Money for Street Dept.
A recess was taken at 9:55, and it was after 11 o'clock when the aldermen reconvened. Mr. Dexter moved adjournment, but the motion was not seconded. Mr. Connors moved that the order for $2000 additional for street laborers be taken up, and Mr. Carmichael seconded the motion. Mr. Connors was opposed to referring the matter to the appropriations committee. He said it was no use to send it there unless the members wanted to go to its funeral. "We sent a similar order there before," said Mr. Connors, "and it's a dead one." Mr. Connors moved immediate action.

If this order is passed tonight, said Mr. Qua, "it will be perfectly apparent that it was done for political purposes. At all events, I cannot see any reason for passing an order for $2000 when $800 would be enough. I have been told that Mr. Putnam is going to increase the wages of the sparrow men 25 cents per day, the next time they are paid." Aldermen Carmichael said he would vote for the order and he wanted it distinctly understood that his action would not be for political effect. "If we vote Mr. Putnam $2000," he said, "there will be no excuse for him refusing to increase the pay of the street laborers. If $100 is enough we can meet a week from tonight and turn the remaining $1800 back to the general treasury fund."

Mr. Adams was in favor of $2 a day for street laborers. He said that with the cost of living $2 a day was little enough.

The question of adopting the order was put, and it was adopted by a vote of 4 to 3. Those voting in favor were Messrs. Adams, Carmichael, Connors and Brennan, and those voting against the order were Messrs. Dexter, Gray and Qua. Messrs. Ryan and Wainwright were not present when the vote was taken. Alderman Gray having voted in the minority, gave notice of reconsideration to be acted on at the next meeting.

The joint order to appropriate $800 for storm guards on the Church street bridge was read. Mr. Qua suggested it be referred to the committee on streets. Mr. Brennan called attention to the fact that Mr. Qua had voted for the Little Canada park order, earlier in the year, and that matter had not been referred to any committee. Mr. Adams thought the storm guards should be put on at once. The question of adoption came up. The order was adopted in concurrence.

Hospital Commission
The ordinance creating the commission to have sole charge of the construction of a contagious hospital was then passed to a second reading. The report of the committee on bills in second reading was read and accepted. It was then voted to order the ordinance to be enrolled.

A recess was taken, and at 13 o'clock, the hour when graveyards yawn, the board was called together and voted to pass the ordinance to be ordained. Adjourned.

COMMON COUNCIL
It was well after 10 o'clock last night before President Jewett, of the aldermen, called to order. The delay was due to caucusing on the part of the republican members and the $2000 additional for street laborers had something to do with the secret sessions.

Voted All the Orders
When the council got down to business it voted in favor of the order to increase the pay of street laborers now getting $1.75 a day to $2 a day. The council also voted in favor of a loan order of $60,000 for a new pump for the Centralville pumping station. $900 for storm guards for the Church street bridge and took favorable action on everything connected with the contagious hospital proposition.

On the matter of $2000 extra for street laborers, Mr. Connors suggested that the matter be up to 20 minutes. The council had already voted the order and it was hung up on notice to reconsider. Last night the body by a vote of 14 to 9 adhered to its former action and the order stood adopted. Those voting against it were Messrs. Butler, J. L. Davis, W. T. Davis, Chapman, Philon, Connors, Jewett, Kilpatrick and Randall.

On motion of Councilman Tracey the order for $900 for storm guards on the Church street bridge was taken from the table and adopted.

The joint order asking for the sum of $6000 for state aid work, was adopted in concurrence.

The contagious hospital matter was brought up and favorably acted upon. The recommendation of the appropriations committee that an ordinance providing for the appointment of a contagious hospital commission be referred to the committee on ordinance and legislation, was voted.

A recess was taken, that the committee on ordinance and legislation might take action on the recommendation of the appropriations committee relative to the contagious hospital.

It was 11:45 o'clock when the body reconvened.

The $60,000 water board joint order for the purchase of a new pump was brought up for concurrent action. It was unanimously adopted.

The recommendation of the committee on ordinance and legislation, relative to the appropriations committee relative to the contagious hospital, was voted.

On motion of Councilman Tracey it was voted that when the body adjourns it meet on next Tuesday night. Adjourned at 12:55 a. m.

It is a great show for ten cents that is being given at the Colonial theatre, Odd Fellows building, Middlesex street. Pare and Johnson sing, dance and tell stories. They have excellent voices and their dancing is as good as the best. John J. Hurley is a born musician and makes good at each performance. "In Dear Old Tennessee," is the subject of the illustrated song and Miss Mann has had to answer to encores at each performance. The pictures are exceptionally good and are of new subjects. The present bill ends this evening and on Thursday a new one comes, including Vennette and Byrne. They always have something good to offer. Performances are at 2 o'clock in the afternoon and at 7 and 9:45 in the evening. Box office opens a quarter of an hour before the show.

L'Association Catholique, which has a well equipped clubhouse at the junction of Merrimack and Pawtucket streets, is held in high esteem among both the French and English speaking people of this city.

It was founded May 14th, 1889, by the late Rev. Fr. Poirier, O. M. I., with 35 members, as a French Catholic benevolent association.

Its first meetings were held in the building adjoining St. Jean Baptiste church on Merrimack street, which is now being occupied as a school house.

The organization was incorporated the 5th of February, 1891, and then took the name of "Corporation des Membres de L'Association Catholique (C. M. A. C.). On October 1, 1908, the splendid clubhouse on Pawtucket street was dedicated.

This building comprises a well equipped gymnasium with a class of 75 members, a large recreation room with two pool tables and one billiard table, a reading room, reception room, and a large assembly hall on the top floor; in this hall nine other societies hold their semi-monthly reunions, namely: Court St. Antoine, C. O. F. Branch St. Andre, A. C. F. U. L'Union Sammel de Champlain, L'Union Garin Nationale Independante, Court Blanche de Castille, F. F. A. L'Asso-ciation benivolente society; the others up to the present incumbent were: J. N. Mercuri, Eliezer H. Choquette, Pierre Demull, Emmanuel Lauzere, Adelard Guimond, William Drapeau, Joseph Choquette, Thomas J. Goyette, J. B. D. Cognac, Joseph E. Lambert, Emile Lameroux, Albert Bergeron, Pierre Legas, Henri Achin, Jr., Holmer L. P. Turcotte, Joseph L. Richard.

The semi-annual elections will be held on the 20th of December next.

LOWELL OPERA HOUSE
Lillian Buckingham, the girl from the golden west, appeared in the leading role in "The Stampede" at the Opera House last night. The attendance was very small. It may have been due to the inclement weather or probably some people thought that it was one of those blood and thunder dramas inasmuch as it had a tinge of the west to it. But, however, those who witnessed the play are willing to admit that it was one of the best dramas that has been presented to the local theatre-going public during the present season.

The name belies the play even though the stampede brings a fitting climax to the production. The audience does not see the alleged stampede, although the dust from the valley rises high in the air and the intelligent person has a chance to use his brain and realize the purport of the dust.

George A. Dickson presents the drama and the eight members of the cast portray it in a manner which is remarkable. If the manager of his production would but change the name he might have a success. The name is the name given the people the impression that it is one of those "blood and thunder" productions such as are served out to the public now and then.

The story is a very interesting one and is based on the exposure of United States Senator Thomas P. Gore, the blind statesman of Oklahoma, of a plot by men of national repute to defraud the Chectaw and Chickasaw Indian tribes of 450,000 acres of mineral and upland lands worth $100,000,000.

A political drama showing the influence of the moneyed powers in securing their wants, but in this instance right is might instead of the general rule of might is right.

Lillian Buckingham portrays the part of "Wanga," the half breed Indian. Her father was a white man, and her mother an Indian squaw. The father, upon learning the secrets of the value of the land of the White Creek reservation, deserts his wife, the latter afterwards delivering a child, "Wanga," and while there, although he is supposed to be a Spaniard instead of an Indian, or rather half-breed, learns the many secrets of the reservation.

"Wanga" goes to Washington to be educated and while there, although he is supposed to be a Spaniard instead of an Indian, or rather half-breed, learns the many secrets of the reservation.

the Indian girl so long as she does not divulge the secret that she is his daughter, he being married again.

Miss Buckingham has a wonderful personality and her portrayal of the difficult role of the half-breed is beyond conception. Mr. Arthur Behrens as "Dick Travers" is excellent.

John Dugan as "Senator Bobbs," a United States commissioner, is the candy kid when it comes to handing out the slang. For a time he was a tool of the railroad magnate, principally because he was in love with the magnate's daughter, but when he was sent out to act as the commissioner in settling the claim between the Indians and the railroad interests, there was a change of affairs, but he proved himself to be on the level and came out with flying colors. The other members of the cast are good and worthy of favorable mention if space would permit.

Performances will be given this afternoon and evening.

THE CHOCOLATE SOLDIER
"The Chocolate Soldier" comes to the Opera House Dec. 9 and 10 with an entirely new investment of scenery and costumes brought from Bulgaria for the production. The dresses with their rich embroideries were all made by hand by the peasants in the Dragoman Pass where the scene of the opera is laid.

The prima donna role is in the capable hands of Miss Rene Vivienne, who under the name of "Whitney" made her first appearance in comic opera. Miss Vivienne has studied for many years abroad, and for two seasons sang the title role in "Madame Butterfly" in Henry Savage's organization.

Miss Gene Laneska plays the subordinate role of Mascha, and her sprightly performance is said to add much to the success of the play. Miss Mildred Rogers, who was the prima donna, contralto of Henry Russell's Boston Grand Opera Company last year, is also in the cast, as Miss Lillian. Per who alternates in the prima donna role.

Among the men are George Tallman, the original Alexius in this country, who sang the role three hundred nights in New York; Francis J. Boyle, who was also with original organization, and who is accounted one of the Harry Earl buffo-basses in America; Harry Fairleigh, who plays the title role, and gives one of the best performances in the cast, according to one of the critics, that has yet been given; and George O'Donnell, who plays Popoff, the bluff old colonel, in a masterly manner.

With the organization also is the Whitney Opera Comique orchestra, the largest that ever gave comic opera in this country.

"THE GIRL AND THE KAISER"
"The Girl and the Kaiser" furnishes a most attractive entertainment for those who like musical trappings with their theatrical diversions. The opera fairly oozes romance and the music by George Jarro is romantic.

The piece ought to win on its merits as a production alone. Several operettas that are more clever have been produced in New York this year, but there has been none more lavishly mounted. Its two pictures, the first a forest, the second the ball room of a court, presented a charming contrast. These settings added to the eye and perhaps spurred the imagination."—New York Herald.

KLARK-URBAN COMPANY
The repertoire of plays selected by the Klark-Urban company which will appear at the Lowell Opera House for three nights and two matinees commencing next Thursday evening is as follows: Evenings, Thursday, "The Last Dollar," Friday, "The Girl From Out Yonder," Saturday, "Sold Into Slavery," Matinees, Friday, "One Girl in a Thousand," Saturday, "The Fatal Scar." They are all popular and successful plays. The company is said to be an excellent one. Every possible line in the way of scenery, electric lighting and stage effects is complete. New and pleasing vaudeville features will be introduced at each and every performance as follows: Fred Bollinger, aerial artist; A. E. Tenny, comedy juggler; Roberta and Edith, bounding rope and slack wire; Marion Allen, acrobatic dancer; Marie Hodgkins, vocalist; dance, Leith, The Funny Old Maid and The Four Monarchs of Music, Klark-Urban and Schreiber Brothers.

HATHAWAY THEATRE
It is doubtful if any finer actress has appeared in Lowell this season than Valerie Bergere who, with her company, plays "His Japanese Wife," at Hathaway's theatre, this week. Miss Bergere occupies a place quite by herself on the English-speaking stage today, and her work in the Griswold play would seem to preclude the possibility of any rival coming into such sort of work. The play is filled with pathos and prettiness and yet a very plausible story, worked out with some pathos, is told.

Lillian Lever is a comedienne with a good voice. Anita Allen, who is the most novel comedian on the stage, is very funny in "At the Mouth of the Crater," a scenic burlesque; Carl Randall is reminiscent of Laddie Cliff and is always good; the Great Albas is a sensational light-wire performer.

Knox and Alvin appear in "Just for the Money," and the Hathaways has new motion pictures. Performances of this bill will be given twice daily during the remainder of the week, with special seats at the matinees for women.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE
Somebody whom everybody in Lowell will want to see, either from a desire for something novel or for old times sake, is appearing at the Merrimack Square theatre this week, and that somebody is Mrs. Tom Thumb, the most famous midget in the world.

A delightful little lady "63 years young," who has one of the most unusual life stories ever told, Mrs. Tom Thumb appears daily at 3:30, 7:45 and 9:45 p. m., respectively.

On Saturday afternoon next she will give a reception on the stage to everybody in the audience, but especially to the children. Also, she will distribute souvenir portraits of herself. The reception will be at 8:45 p. m.

There is also on the bill Homan's Six Imperial Dancers, the best team ever of its kind in the house, with Lawton, the juggler; Floyd and Russell, colored comedians, and the Rosses, singers of songs.

A continuous performance is presented daily from 1 until 10:30 o'clock. The box office opens daily at 10 a. m.

THEATRE VOYONS
In "The Lad from Old Ireland," the feature today at the Theatre Voyons, plucky and industrious Irish lad is shown starting from his old birthplace in the Emerald Isle and coming to America and here making a fortune only to return home and bring joy to his boyhood sweetheart. The position of the picture dealing with Irish scenes was photographed in Rathpenny, Ireland and shows the Transatlantic liner were taken in mid-ocean. It is an exceptional picture, far out of the ordinary run and one that has already attracted much attention. With it is shown a motion picture, "His Mother's Thanksgiving," that tells a story of a city son and a country mother that is one of the best of its type ever shown. The musical program is most appropriate.

EMPIRE THEATRE
Another "cocking" bill at the Empire, is the verdict of all who visited this cozy little playhouse yesterday, where Willard, Kingsley and Stein are shown starting from their stirring military playlet "The Blue and the Gray." This little war drama, full of thrills and dramatic situations held the deepest attention of the audience from start to finish. The playlet tells an exciting story of love and adventure in the tragic period of American history when the great armies of the Blue and the Gray were on the battlefield, and the duel fought between the two lieutenants is one of the most exciting and realistic produced. Stein and his army of unusual, clever and their act is entirely different from other acts that have been seen here. Miss Earle, as Lena, made a decided impression by her singing of the ever-popular German song "Heinrich," and a very novel novel of songs, dances, that places her as a monologist, is excellent. His jokes are mostly new, and undoubtedly original. His songs, too, are clever and he scored very good. The pictures are also up to the standard of this playhouse.

A BEAUTIFUL NEW
Hallet & Davis Upright Piano
For $365
This will bring many a person to a decision to buy now, for there is no piano that equals the Hallet & Davis Piano that can be bought for less than $500. That $135 saving will look especially good to connoisseurs in piano quality. The Hallet & Davis Piano costs twice as much as the ordinary piano for the labor; it costs fifty per cent. more for materials. It is "pure in tone," and guaranteed in the strongest terms by its makers, New England Piano Music House. What a great mistake it would be to pay anything like $365 for a piano without first inspecting a Hallet & Davis.

PRICE ONE CENT

CHEAPER GAS FOR LOWELL

MAYOR MEEHAN LATEST CASE IS WEAKENED

Secures Concessions on Gas and Lighting From Gas Company

Price of Gas to be 85 Cents After April 1, 1911—
One of the Best Lighting Contracts in the Country for Welsbach Lamps Secured—Option of "Impulse System" in Two Years—None But Citizens to be Hereafter Employed on Street
Lamps

Today Mayor Meehan was notified by the Lowell Gas Light company that as a result of his negotiations with Mr. George S. Motley, for a reduction in the price of gas the directors of the company had voted to reduce the price from 90 cents to 85 cents per thousand cubic feet. This will be a saving for the people of Lowell of $80,000 in one year or $150,000 in five years.

His Honor has also secured one of the best contracts held by any city in the United States for Welsbach burners and has embodied in the contract an option for the city to adopt the "Impulse System" in two years if it be deemed preferable. He has also a provision in the contract that none but citizens of Lowell will be employed in taking care of the street lamps.

Price of Gas Reduced
Mayor Meehan recently appealed to the Gas Light company for a reduction in the price of gas and in this he has been quite successful. The company in reply to his request told him they would take it under advisement and as a result His Honor today received the following notification of a reduction in the price of gas from 90 cents to 85 cents per thousand cubic feet.

The company's letter is as follows:
Lowell Gas Light Co.,
Lowell, Mass., Nov. 30, 1910.
Hon. John F. Meehan, Mayor, City of Lowell.

Dear Sir—At a meeting of the board of directors of this company, held on the 28th inst., it was voted that the net price of gas be 85 cents per thousand cubic feet, beginning April 1, 1911.

Tours truly,
Lowell Gas Light Co.,
George S. Motley,
President and Manager.

President Motley of the Gas Light company stated that this reduction would mean a saving of $80,000 a year for the people of Lowell, or $150,000 in five years. He said the reduction was very important especially at this time when the prices of labor and material are so high.

Better the Street Lighting Contract
Mayor Meehan has also secured valuable concessions in his negotiations for a better street lighting contract with the Lowell Gas Light company. Several weeks ago in view of the fact that the lighting contract for the 1200 Welsbach lamps expired October 13 past, His Honor, in company with Chief Hosmer, superintendent of lighting, and George S. Motley, president and general manager of the Lowell Gas Light company, went to Boston to investigate a new method of lighting known as the "Impulse System."

Mayor Meehan had heard of this system and had consulted Chief Hosmer in regard to it. The Gas Light company was not willing to favor its adoption at the present time but Mayor Meehan was determined to investigate it thoroughly before renewing the existing contract with the company. He wanted the best lights available and this was his object in going to Boston with Chief Hosmer. In Boston the party met Supt. Rourke, who from his experience in Panama is an expert on the lighting of cities and public highways. The "Impulse System" was thoroughly discussed with Mr. Rourke, who like Chief Hosmer, was unwilling to favor it at the present stage of its development, but Supt. Rourke expressed the opinion that in a year or two the system might be so developed as to be preferable to the system adopted by Boston and other cities at the present time.

His Honor felt that Lowell cannot afford to experiment on any new lighting system.

The question to be settled was the price at which the gas company would renew its contract on the Welsbach lamps, the number provided for in the contract not to be less than 1200. Mayor Meehan secured figures indicating the cost in other cities and found that the gas company was correct in stating that Lowell had secured one of the best contracts in the country.

It was found that the price per lamp in Boston is $23.55 for 12,000 lights; New York, $23.75 for 50,000 lights; Worcester, $24; New Bedford $28; Brookline, Mass., $27; Portland, Me., $28; Providence, R. I., $27.50; Lowell, $22.75. The Lowell contract is for not less than 1200 lamps.

Option on Impulse System
The gas company in view of the fact that the price per lamp in Lowell is very low as compared with the price in other cities, refused to make any reduction.

Another provision embodied in the contract makes it compulsory upon the company to employ men who are citizens of Lowell. This provision is as follows: "The party of the second part (meaning the Lowell Gas Light Company) expressly agrees that all men provided by it to light and extinguish lamps and to keep the lanterns clean, shall if newly employed therefor be resident voters of the city of Lowell."

duction, but Mayor Meehan insisted that a provision should be embodied in the contract to the effect that if within two years the "Impulse system" shall be considered preferable the city will have the option of adopting it.

This part of the contract is as follows: "Provided, however, that if, prior to the expiration of two years from the date of this agreement, the 'Impulse System,' so-called, of automatically lighting and extinguishing gas street lamps has, in the reasonable judgment of both the mayor and the superintendent of street lamps of the party of the first part, become so developed and perfected as to render its adoption in the city of Lowell appropriate, suitable and desirable; and if, at least six months prior to the expiration of this agreement a contract duly executed by the party of the first part is tendered to the party of the second part under this agreement as shall reasonably have been decided by the said mayor and said superintendent jointly, then, and not otherwise, the party of the first part, acting by said mayor and said superintendent jointly, may, upon written notice to the party of the second part, rescind, cancel and annul this agreement at the expiration of two years from the date hereof."

Only Citizens Employed on Lamps
Another provision embodied in the contract makes it compulsory upon the company to employ men who are citizens of Lowell. This provision is as follows: "The party of the second part (meaning the Lowell Gas Light Company) expressly agrees that all men provided by it to light and extinguish lamps and to keep the lanterns clean, shall if newly employed therefor be resident voters of the city of Lowell."

And Establishes a "Reparation" Account
C. P. Richardson, local agent for the Lowell Humane society and juvenile probation officer of the local police court, appeared at the office of the city treasurer this afternoon and passed over $20 to the general treasury fund.

The $20 represented two $10 fines imposed on juveniles in police court for ringing false alarms of fire. The money was not turned over as fines, for the new delinquent law does not allow that the delinquent shall be given a police record, and the money went in on the line of reparation. It was the first money to be turned over, in this way, from the police court to the city treasurer.

MAYOR MEEHAN
ADDRESSED A BIG CROWD AT CARPET MILLS
Mayor Meehan was given a rousing reception at the Carpet mill gate at the noon hour today. He spoke to a big crowd and every man there seemed to be an enthusiastic Meehan man. There was quite a number of women present and they joined in the applause that was heartily and generously in referring to his republican opponent, Mayor Meehan did not mince matters and warned the voters of the consequences of giving his opponent another year at city hall.

Judge Bond Rules Out Evidence of Dying Statement
Cambridge, Nov. 30.—The alleged dying statement of Clarence Glover, for whose murder Hattie Leblanc is on trial for her life and which statement is said to have named the girl as firing the fatal shot, was ruled out of the case by Judge Bond today.

The district attorney claimed yesterday that the statement was essential to the government's case, but said today that the trial would proceed.

Judge Bond allowed the prosecution an hour to produce additional proof that the dying statement was competent, and then said that he had reviewed the evidence very carefully, had studied numerous authorities, but could not bring his mind to believe that the statement by Glover that Hattie Leblanc shot him was made "under the solemnity of approaching death. I therefore exclude it from the case."

The court room seemed to be quivering with excitement when Judge Bond took his seat at the opening of the trial today, for he had announced at the adjournment last night that he would make his decision the first thing this morning. Judge Bond and District Attorney Higgins both appeared nervous, and M. M. Johnson, the leading counsel for the girl, was also somewhat excited for the district attorney had stated that on the introduction of this evidence rested the essential proof of the government's case.

Before Judge Bond could utter a word the district attorney had jumped to his feet and renewed yesterday's argument by asking that additional evidence might be heard. He told Judge Bond that the greatest importance to the government and he urged the court to hear a few more witnesses before ruling on the matter. Mr. Higgins said he was convinced that the jury should have a chance to hear this testimony and that Glover said during the hours before his death. The witnesses he wanted to call today, he thought, would clear the doubt in the mind of the jury as to the presence of certain of the witnesses at the hospital when Glover lay there. He said that while they might differ somewhat in their testimony, they would be found to agree on the main facts.

Counsel Johnson for the girl denounced what he called the attempt of the district attorney to crowd incompetent evidence into the case and questioned the testimony of several of the doctors whom he told the court to hear. "Glover," he declared, "never said 'Hattie shot me,' after the police made him realize that he was dying."

Judge Bond allowed two witnesses to the latter jumped off his wagon to help Glover after he had been shot. Another was Alfred Proctor who was at the hospital when Glover was taken in and who said he heard Glover say several times "Hattie shot me."

Judge Bond's Decision
Judge Bond gave his decision in a clear voice.

"The stories by these witnesses," he said, "seemed to differ strangely and I must insist that they have not convinced me that Mr. Glover's statement 'Hattie shot me,' was made under the solemnity of approaching death. People get the habit of saying 'I'm going to die,' but such statements are seldom made with such a conviction."

"I should be shown conclusively that Glover was convinced that he was going to die and the evidence better come at once. She made no conviction."

Judge Bond cited several cases and told a couple of stories to make clear the point and concluded with the words:

"I therefore exclude the evidence."

A recess was immediately announced. The district attorney announced that the government's case would go right on, despite the setback, which he acknowledged to be a severe one.

Case Is Resumed
Assistant District Attorney Wier opened for the government with a history of the case. Starting with Glover's leaving home on the night of the shooting at 7:45 o'clock, he told of his being seen to enter his laundry, with a woman at 8:35, his discovery half an hour later on the piazza of Dr. Couzens' private hospital a hundred yards from the laundry, his death there at 12:10 a. m., the discovery of the revolver with two bullets missing in the place where Glover said he threw it, and the arrest of Hattie Leblanc three days after the murder.

Mr. Wier also referred to legal controversies over Glover's will, in which relatives of the girl took part. He said that the evidence which the government now has is of a circumstantial nature. For instance, several pieces of jewelry which will be shown to have belonged to Hattie Leblanc were found in the rear of the laundry.

Dr. George West, the medical examiner, was the first witness and described the results of the autopsy. He said that there were two bullet wounds, one in which the bullet entered the left shoulder and ranged across the body horizontally lodging in the neck and a second in which the bullet entered the back, going downward through the base of the lung and into the liver.

Both were mortal. In his opinion the clothing showed that the muzzle of the revolver must have been held close to the body.

Thomas Connors of Waltham testified that he was called to help remove Glover after the wounded man had been found on the piazza and found him breathing heavily. The witness was not asked as to anything Glover said. Mr. Connors denied that there was any young man named Herbert A. King on the piazza at any time yesterday. Mrs. Mary Dutch, who lives next to the Couzens hospital, said she saw a man, who she afterward identified as Glover, ring the bell of the hospital and then fall on the piazza.

Dr. N. W. Couzens, who owns the hospital, said that when he reached home he found Glover on the piazza breathing very heavily. He gave him an injection of morphine but was convinced that Glover was dying. He directed that Glover be taken into the hospital and there another injection was made. Glover died shortly after midnight.

Interest at the afternoon session shifted from Hattie Leblanc to Mrs. Lillian Glover, the widow, when Lawyer Johnson declared that he proposed to connect her with the crime. He said she had the motive, the physical and mental force and the opportunity to kill her husband.

"I want a chance to show that Mrs. Glover is a vampire," he declared. Mr. Johnson was led to make these remarks when his cross examination of Dr. Couzens was objected to by the district attorney. The jury was immediately sent from the court room and the second battle of the day between the lawyers began.

District Attorney Higgins claimed that Mr. Johnson should show to the satisfaction of the court that his accusations had foundation. Judge Bond decided to hear the dying declaration that regarding the jury to pass on it. Dr. Couzens was then examined by Lawyer Johnson.

He said that he called Mrs. Glover by telephone and told her that Mr. Glover had been shot and that she had better come at once. She made no comment. Half an hour later she appeared at the hospital, but repeatedly refused to see her husband and after staying an hour she walked out.

There were two telephone calls later in the evening from a person who claimed to be speaking for Mrs. Glover. Each time there was an inquiry as to Mr. Glover's condition and his chances of recovery, and on both occasions the question was asked, "Did he make any statement implicating Mrs. Glover?"

Another Point of Defense
At the conclusion of Dr. Couzens' testimony District Attorney Higgins again objected to further evidence of the same sort, but Mr. Johnson declared that as an officer of the court it was his duty to present all the evidence in the case, no matter upon whom it bore.

Judge Bond then ordered the jury back to the court room, deciding for the second time in the day in favor of the defense. Dr. Couzens repeated his conversations with Mrs. Glover and her action that night. She said she was born in Cape Breton and that although her maiden name was Leblanc she was not related to the defendant. She knew of Hattie Leblanc and two years ago sent for her. The girl came to Waltham as a domestic at $2 a week. A few months after her arrival, on account of something that occurred in the house and in which Mr. Glover was involved, the witness said she sent the girl away for a week.

MAINE WILL BE DRY

Democrats to Enforce Prohibition Laws

NEWPORT, Me., Nov. 30.—It is expected that a few days after Col. Frederick W. Plaisted takes his oath of office as governor Jan. 1, an order will be issued from Augusta that every sheriff in Maine strictly and impartially enforce the laws against the sale of intoxicating liquors.

That is the plan of the party is said to be a fact by persons high in the party councils. With democratic sheriffs in two-thirds of the counties in Maine and a democrat in the governor's chair for the first time in 20 years, the party will see if it is possible to have real enforcement of the prohibitory law.

The democrats in their campaign charged the republicans with not impartially enforcing the liquor laws and promised that if elected their aim would be to enforce all laws and the prohibitory law in particular.

A meeting of the state democratic committee was held last week in Augusta, at which Governor-elect Plaisted was present. It is said upon excellent authority that the question of enforcing the liquor laws was one of the important matters considered. It is also said that the state committee, without exception, favored real enforcement and were heartily in favor of any plan that would make Maine drier than ever.

Expect to Kill Sturgis Law
It is expected the sheriffs of the 16 counties will be called together soon after Colonel Plaisted takes his seat and the situation will be canvassed. They will be given explicit orders to see that no liquors are sold in their respective counties and will have the assurance that the leaders of the party will stand behind them in doing their duty in this respect.

With the death of the Sturgis law, which is expected to occur early at the coming session of the legislature, the sheriffs will have everything in their own hands. Several of the democratic sheriffs-elect have said openly that they will enforce the law to the letter if it takes the last cent in the county treasuries to pay the costs.

People prominent in the democracy also hint that the hotel men will be called into headquarters and the situation explained. They will be asked to refrain from dealing in intoxicants and to give their assistance in making Maine really "dry." Several well known hotel men have declared that they will quit the liquor business Jan. 1 and will give all assistance in officers in enforcing the law. Others, who have been directly or indirectly interested in the liquor business are said to be in favor of giving the voters of Maine a real taste of real state-wide enforcement and of making every county absolutely dry.

It is expected that harrasing any unforeseen complications the sixth amendment to the constitution, which is the famous clause making constitutional prohibition in this state, will be resubmitted to a popular vote by the incoming legislature. The democratic platforms for years have contained a plank favoring resubmission and this has been the keynote of many campaigns. Now that the party is in power this is certain to be done.

Clubs to Join in Campaign
The special election at which the voters will cast their ballots either for or against constitutional prohibition will probably not be held before September, 1911, and from Jan. 1 to the date of the election the democrats plan to make Maine just as dry as it is possible to make it in order that the voters may see just how real enforcement of prohibition works. It is said that this plan also meets with the approval of the officers of the clubs in many of the cities where it has been customary to maintain buffets where liquors might be obtained. These, it is expected, will all be closed tight.

Some of the hotels where it has been customary to dispense liquors to guests and where the revenue was a large part of the hotel's earnings will, it is said, be closed and the proprietors will take a vacation of several months. It is expected the democrats will have more hearty co-operation from all sources in their efforts to make Maine more "dry" than has ever been seen in all of the state's long experience with prohibition.

Some aver that if Maine were given real enforcement for six months the result of the vote would be overwhelmingly for a local option system. Others say real enforcement would be popular and that it would greatly strengthen the prohibitory law.

It can be safely predicted, however, that those who had expected "open times" under the democratic administration will be greatly surprised at the turn affairs will take after the new officials step into power.

Y. M. C. I. MINSTRELS
The Young Men's Catholic Institute will appear in their annual minstrel show in the immaculate Conception school hall tonight and from the past performances of this organization in minstrel shows, it goes without saying that it will be a continuous laugh from the rise of the curtain till the close. THE CIVIC LEAGUE
Secretary John H. Murphy, of the board of trade, was present as a member at the meeting yesterday in Boston of the Massachusetts Civic League. He was very much pleased at the discussion of "The Housing Problem," as it was taken up at the meeting, and came back to Lowell with some interesting statistics as given by the speakers at the meeting.

THE POLICE BOARD

Gave Hearing on Special Officer's Appointment

The board of police met in regular session last night and the greater part of the open meeting was taken up with the hearing given on the petition from residents of Howard street for the reappointment of Morris Shapiro as a special officer for Howard street and vicinity. While the petition was signed by a majority of the citizens of Howard street, there were a number of other residents of the street and vicinity who objected to the granting of the license.

The license petitioned for by Mr. Shapiro has been a question of debate in the Hebrew colony since last October when his special license ran out and he attempted to have it renewed and from that time until the present there has been discussion in the ranks. When the young man's license ran out a number of the residents petitioned for the renewal of the license, while on the other hand there was almost an equal number who objected to his reappointment.

The final hearing on the matter came up last night and there was a good representation of the residents of the vicinity of Howard street when the meeting was called to order. Among the witnesses for the petitioner were J. Nannis, Alexander McCrea, Charles E. Jameson, Edward P. Sanborn, J. Gardner and Inspector Martin Maher. All, with the exception of Mr. Maher, testified as to the need of a special officer in Howard street and the vicinity.

Young Shapiro himself, who said he was a driver for the American Express

Co., told of his efforts to maintain order in Howard street.

Mr. Shapiro referred to his work in the breaking up of crap shooting by boys in Howard street, which, he said, was an every day occurrence. He contended that it was his activity in breaking up private "card parties" which led to the objection to the renewal of his license.

Abraham Wolff objected to the renewal of the license. He said that there was no need for an officer in that section and denied ever having any trouble with boys; though he did admit that a window in a house had been broken. Cross-examined, he denied that he had made a statement to the effect that he would spend $1000 to defeat the reappointment of Shapiro.

David Ziskind said that Shapiro had told him that he wanted a special police warrant because it meant 11 points to the young man on the civil service list.

On cross-examination Mr. Ziskind admitted having called upon Shapiro's services as a special officer in the past few weeks.

The board took the matter under advisement and went into executive session at 9:05 o'clock.

The board took the following action in regard to minor licenses:

Licenses granted: Common victualer: Peter Mavrodies, 457 Market street.

Billiards and pool: Deakoulis Becharakis, 424 Suffolk street.

To sell ice cream, etc., on the Lord's day: John H. Eacraft, 554 Suffolk street.

Surrendered and cancelled: Billiards and pool: James Mitchoacos, 424 Suffolk street.

Criticizes Newspapers for Widespread Publication of Crime

At the quarterly meeting and dinner of the Boston druggists' association, held last night in Young's hotel, Boston, Dist. Atty. John J. Arthur Bean, the toastmaster, and spoke on "The treatment of the criminal in Middlesex county."

After describing the methods of caring for and handling prisoners in the institutions of the county, the district attorney had a good word to say of the probation system, which he said was an excellent thing for the prevention of recurrence of crime.

PORTUGUESE REVOLT

Troops Take Possession of Island of Macao

MACAO, Island of Macao, China, Nov. 30.—The Portuguese troops of the local garrison and the crew of the Portuguese gunboat Patria, revolted last night and, taking possession of the city, proceeded to enforce certain changes in the administration of the affairs of this dependency of Portugal.

The rebels continued in control today. The governor and military officers being powerless.

The revolt began with the landing of the sailors of the Patria, who marched to the public square, where they fired three volleys as a signal to the troops, who at once forced an entrance to the army and arming themselves, joined the seamen.

Several hundred strong, the rebels proceeded to Santa Clara convent, from which they drove out the nuns, ordering them to leave the island. The nuns fled to Hong Kong.

From the convent the rebels marched to the government house, before which they mounted a cannon. An interview with the governor was requested and when the officers at the government house intervened they were silenced at the point of the bayonet.

The governor was compelled to hear the demands, which were the expulsion of the religious orders, increased pay for the army and navy, the suppression of the newspaper Vida Nova and the righting of alleged wrongs suffered by the soldiers and sailors.

Under threat the government granted every demand.

HONG KONG, Nov. 30.—The Portuguese garrison and naval force at Macao have revolted, demanding the expulsion of the nuns and an increase of the salaries of the troops.

There is intense anxiety here and foreign consuls are making urgent inquiries regarding the security of the citizens of their countries and their property in Macao. The Chinese viceroy has been warned to have troops in readiness for action. The British authorities had not sent a gunboat to the scene today. British citizens of Macao are arriving here.

ISLAND OF MACAO

Macao, is a seaport and a dependency of the Portuguese in China situated on a peninsula of the island of Macao on the west side of the entrance to the Canton river, 70 miles southeast of Canton, and 35 miles west of Hong Kong.

It was settled by Portuguese merchants in the latter part of the sixteenth century and long was a flourishing port. After the cession of Hong Kong to the British the trade of Macao declined rapidly. The city was subsequently ceded to Portugal by China. Gradually the Portuguese extended their rule over the whole island. China objected to this extension of territory and has frequently clashed with Lisbon over their respective territorial rights. Continued diplomatic negotiations have failed to definitely adjust the matter.

The city is now divided into two wards, one inhabited by Chinese and the other by non-Chinese, mostly Portuguese, each having its own administrator. When the Portuguese monarchy was overthrown the progressives petitioned the government of Lisbon to permit the religious orders to remain undisturbed on the island.

B. & M. SHANTY

Cannot Go Up in Public Way

The following opinion given by City Civil Engineer Bowers today by City Solicitor Duncan is self-explanatory:

Office of City Solicitor

Lowell, Mass., Nov. 29, 1910.

Mr. George Bowers, City Engineer.

Dear Sir—I have considered the petition of the Boston & Maine railroad asking the permission of the city council to erect a "crossing shanty" in the public way at the corner of Merrimack and Dutton streets.

An examination of the authorities shows pretty conclusively that the city council has not the power to grant this petition. A building, or other structure of a like nature, erected upon a public street without the authority of the legislative authorities cannot give a valid permission to anyone to thus occupy the streets until the power so to do has been expressly conferred upon them by statute.

I do not find that any such power, either by charter or otherwise, has ever been given to the Lowell city council. Very truly yours,

W. W. Duncan,
City Solicitor.

Jimmie Gardner "Came Back" Like a Racer

Lowell Boxer Made Frank Klaus Look Like a Dutch Comedian—Gardner Showed Better Than Ever Before—Freddie Maguire Lost Decision

Jimmie Gardner, Lowell's pride, thoroughly redeemed himself with his many-Lowell friends last evening and is once more the Pride of Lowell, only a bigger pride than ever, for last evening at the Armory club Jimmie not only demonstrated that he can come back, but he showed his friends what he is capable of doing when right, putting up the best fight of his career and making Frank Klaus, the Pittsburgh bear-cat, appear more like a pole-cat than the other article.

He so completely outclassed the rough-house Pittsburgher as to make him appear ridiculous in the eyes of the greenest fight-fan and toward the close of the encounter the spectators were jeering Klaus with such cries as: "Who ever told you you were a champion?"

"Say, Klaus, Podge Murphy could lick you."

"O, what a Rummy!" and other kind remarks that made the Dutchman madder than the traditional latter.

Before the scrap Klaus confidently told his friends that he expected to put Gardner away in four rounds and his friends were offering odds of ten to six, five and even to four on him. A big Lowell delegation went down and to tell the truth only a valiant minority of them dared to take a chance on Jimmie as the result of his last bout.

When they appeared in the ring Klaus looked much bigger and huskier and the Lowell fans shook their heads doubtfully. But after the going started they were all changed.

After two rounds every Lowell man would bet from his shirt out that Gardner while the Klaus adherents sunk their teeth in the lower depths of their jeans and fastened the opening with a safety pin.

Jimmie had been training with such experts as Sam Langford and Joe Thomas, the latter always being in condition, and he stepped into the ring in perfect form. A few hard body punches that Klaus landed failed to have any effect on him, while the Pittsburgher eats anything more solid than his favorite sausages for a week or more he must have a truly wonderful mouth and jaw.

Both men were in excellent shape, and at no time did he bite the dust, though his poor old head received an awful rocking. At the conclusion of the bout Jimmie was just as fresh as when he entered the ring. Joe Thomas presided over the seconds in Gardner's corner, and his careful instructions had much to do with Jimmie's exceptionally fine showing. From the management down to Klaus' manager, all agreed that it was one of the finest fight affairs ever pulled off.

The one big disappointment to the Lowell fans was Freddie Maguire's showing against Tom Flanagan, of Cambridge. Flanagan got the decision after six rounds, though many of the Lowell fans believed that a draw should have been given. The affair was so nearly even that the management will give the boys another match. Maguire had trained but little for the encounter and had not boxed any. Flanagan having a wholesome regard for Freddie's prowess, trained faithfully and showed plainly the good result of training. Flanagan was apparently lousy of Freddie for the first few rounds and then started in using a left jab with effect.

The bout between Young Alger and Jack McGovern resulted in favor of Alger, though there was some dissatisfaction because it wasn't called a draw while the bout between Tommy Fury of Albion and Joe Nelson of Lawrence was the funniest thing in the fight line seen at the Armory in many a day. Fury knocked out Nelson in the second round after both had been knocked down several times.

There was a large crowd in attendance and a better bill could not have been selected. Next week the date of the meeting will be Thursday, Dec. 8 instead of Dec. 1. And the bill? Sam Langford and Joe Jeannotte, Nuff Ced. Don't make any dates for Thursday. Young Boyle of Lowell will meet Johnnie Gallant in a six round preliminary.

HOT AFTER LODGE

Anti-Imperialists Denounce and Oppose Him

BOSTON, Nov. 30.—The Anti-Imperialist league adopted strong resolutions against the re-election of Senator Lodge at its twelfth annual meeting yesterday afternoon, not one of the 150 present voting against the resolve.

The fact is that ALLEGOTONE cures a cold, grippa, cough, throat trouble or feverish condition quicker and more surely than any other remedy. The explanation is that ALLEGOTONE is made exclusively from the substances from which your body is made.

presented in a letter by the Rev. John Snyder of Nantucket and which declared that Senator Lodge "has said and done nothing in favor of human rights during the eighteen years of his service in the Senate."

Dr. Berle Joins Attack

The Rev. Dr. A. A. Berle, pastor of the Shawmut Congregational church, also assailed the senior senator in a fiery speech, urging the members of the league to organize to prevent his return to the senate. The text of the resolution was as follows: "Resolved, That the Anti-Imperialist league, assembled for its annual meeting, desires to protest against the choice of the Hon. Henry Cabot Lodge as a senator from Massachusetts. Mr. Lodge opposed the most enlightened and patriotic statesmen even of his own party, and notably his distinguished colleague, the Hon. George Frieble Hoar, by urging the acquisition of the Philippine Islands, and he has persistently refused assent to the request and urgent appeal of the inhabitants for a promise of independence. During the eighteen years of his service in the senate he has said and done nothing in favor of human rights, but has consistently supported an aggressive policy in dealing with foreign nations, and the extravagant expenditure for ships, forts and like purposes which such a policy entails. "As friends of human liberty and peace among men we oppose his re-election."

Dr. Berle said in his opening remarks that many speakers at the Lake Mohonk conference last summer urged the American people to keep their eyes on the Philippine Islands and to demand greater publicity in the affairs of the archipelago. "We can hasten this situation in Massachusetts by consolidating the state and preventing Henry Cabot Lodge from going from going back to the senate," he declared. "His presence in the senate is more dangerous than that of those men openly allied with predatory interests. The paramount duty is to organize this league in Massachusetts so every legislator shall be convinced that if Mr. Lodge is sent back to the senate we will reckon with them here and now. It is the first chance to strike the man who is responsible for this condition."

TARIFF BOARD

WILL BE DINED AT CHICAGO SATURDAY

CHICAGO, Nov. 30.—Leaders of many big business organizations from all the large cities of the country have been invited to attend a dinner tendered in honor of President Taft's tariff board by the chamber of commerce here Saturday. The president, it is understood, has authorized James B. Reynolds, Henry C. Emery, and Alvin H. Sanders, members of the tariff board, to make important revelations regarding the board's work and the nature of its progress to date.

Mr. Emery, according to announcement, will present in the most direct and simple manner a brief account of what the tariff board has done, what the nature of its inquiry is; what results it believes can be obtained; what things it considers possible of achievement, and what powers of inquiry are best suited to achieve the really important results.

MISS TAFT'S DEBUT

Brilliant Occasion at White House Tomorrow

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30.—Society here is making extensive preparations for the "coming out" of Miss Helen Taft at the White House Thursday. The young debutante is a person of much consequence in the capital, and a great many acceptances have been received by Mrs. Taft for the formal debut of her daughter.

Miss Taft is far from a stranger to Washington and has a host of acquaintances among the girls of her own age. The White House circle has so long looked upon the young lady as a child that it will be a novelty for it to see her in the role of a young woman of society; yet Miss Taft showed her social capability last spring, when she took Mrs. Taft's place as hostess at a dinner given in honor of a visiting Japanese prince.

The president's daughter will be one of the best educated girls ever presented to Washington society. Her schooling has been very thorough and she has inherited the intellectual and social gifts of her parents.

NARROW ESCAPE RECOUNT ENDED

Two Families Caught in Tenement Fire

MANCHESTER, N. H., Nov. 30.—Nine persons narrowly escaped from fire early yesterday morning in the 2½-story house at 238 Sullivan street, and were forced to flee in their night clothes and take refuge with neighbors. The house was occupied by the families of J. F. Luchia and James Merrill. The fire started from a defective chimney in the Merrill kitchen. Mrs. Merrill was awakened from her sleep and called to her husband, telling him that she smelled smoke. Mr. Merrill ran into the kitchen and found the room full of fire. He ran back and notified Mr. and Mrs. Luchia upstairs. The children of the Merrill family were then carried to safety outside. Mr. Merrill tried to save some of his furniture, but the smoke was so thick and the heat so great that this was impossible. The fire burned up to the second floor and quickly spread through that tenement and to the empty attic. Five lines of hose were laid and the flames were soon under control. The house is owned by Charles Eastman. The loss is nearly $3500, the fire being burned and the front part badly damaged by smoke and water. The furniture was partly covered by insurance, but Mr. Merrill will lose a considerable sum. He has three children, Cary, 6 months old; William, 3 years, and James, 5½ years. The stepsons living with him are Arthur Merrill and Lew Merrill. Mr. Merrill is an employee of the local gas company. His children were removed to the home of Mrs. Cutler, 203 South street, where a sister of his wife lives.

ARNOLD DIVORCE CASE

Brought to Test State Divorce Laws

BOSTON, Nov. 30.—Admitting that Alton M. Arnold, who filed a divorce libel against his wife yesterday afternoon at the Suffolk court house, naming as correspondent his present wife, Mrs. Virginia Edwards Arnold, was married to him on Dec. 1, 1884, and that she bore him a son, now 14, Sheffield A. Arnold, the landscape artist, declared last night at his home, 1235 Beacon street, Brookline, that he was granted a divorce from her in Nevada, after she had attempted to extort money from him.

Test of State Laws
He believes, he said, that this present action will be nothing but a test case to determine if a divorce given in one state under its own laws shall be legally recognized in another state.

Mrs. Arnold charges her husband with desertion on Feb. 8, 1910. She has had Mr. Arnold's property attached in the sum of $10,000. She asks for alimony for herself and custody of her son, Sheffield, Jr., who lives with her. Mrs. Arnold, who was Miss Alice Pelker of Dorchester, was located last night at 50 King street, in that section where she is living with relatives. She had nothing to say, or if she had, she didn't say it. Earlier in the day Frank H. Noyes, her attorney, had stated Mrs. Arnold was too ill to be seen and had refused to discuss her whereabouts.

"In a few days," said Mr. Noyes, "if my client is well enough, she will make a statement to the public." Arnold made a statement to the public last year he went to Reno, got a divorce from her and married Miss Edwards on the strength of it. We claim the divorce was not legal, that it is not a valid cause for separation and that it does not give the right to remarry."

Mr. Arnold's Story
Mr. Arnold said last night, "Alice M. Arnold and I were married in 1894, when she was only 16 and I was 18. On this account our married life was never happy. As soon as I thought our boy was able to bear his part of the responsibility, I brought an action for divorce. At that time I was legal resident of the state of Nevada, having lived there the requisite length of time. Everything was done legally. Papers were served on Mrs. Arnold and forty days given her in which to file an answer. She, through her attorney, attempted to extort a sum of money from me, which I did not have and which, if I had, I would not have given her. At any rate, the divorce was granted."

"At that time I had no intention of returning here, but business interests were such I had to. Now that action is brought, I think it will be nothing but a test case. I have sent Mrs. Arnold money to buy clothes for the boy and I know she has spent it on her boy, for the boy has come to me whispering for clothes. I have bought him many clothes myself. She sent him to work."

Mr. Arnold is prominent in Brookline society. His offices are at 6 Beacon street, Boston. He was formerly a newspaper man. The present Mrs. Arnold is a statuesque blonde of pronounced personal charm. The couple have a child, born about two months ago.

CHILD MARRIAGES

TO AVOID COMPULSORY EDUCATION LAW

NEW YORK, Nov. 30.—New York's board of education is alarmed over the increasing marriages of Italian girls of 16 years or less, who become wives with their parents' consent in order to avoid the compulsory education law. Edward B. Shallow, who is in charge of the department of compulsory education, said last night that 15 girls' all under 16 and several under 14 had married and left school within the last three months.

FOSS HEADS LIST

Gave $34,000 Towards State Campaign

BOSTON, Nov. 30.—It costs the democratic state committee $36,419.12 to run their state campaign this year, and this, with back bills of $5,058.70, brought the total expenditures of the year up to $41,477.82. As the contributions footed up $42,538.30, this leaves an apparent balance in the hands of Treasurer Charles F. Rordani of $11,060.48.

Heading the list of contributors was Governor-elect Foss, who, according to Treasurer Rordani's return to the secretary of state, turned over to Charles M. Macleod during the year checks totaling $4,316.25.

Next in the list comes Humphrey O'Sullivan of Lowell, chairman of the finance committee, who gave $1,100. Thomas C. Thatcher of Barnstable, candidate for congress, gave $1,172.50. Col. William A. Gaston, candidate for United States senator, contributed $100.

The three-figure givers are headed by Charles S. Hamlin, gubernatorial candidate, with $275. Mayor Fitzgerald and ex-Representative Daniel J. Kelley of ward 8 each gave $250. The $200 contributors were ex-Mayor Josiah Quincy, Gen. Charles H. Taylor and E. A. Grozier.

Then come the $100 gifts, and these were from Arthur T. Lyman of Waltham, Daniel P. Donahue of Westfield, ex-Congressman Joseph R. O'Neill of Boston, Joseph B. Russell, Sherman L. Whipple, Charles S. Lilly, Henry E. Russell, Representative Frank Curtiss of Shrewsbury and City Treasurer, Chas. H. Stetson of Boston.

Treasurer George M. Harlow of the Foss nominating committee makes return that Mr. Foss' nominal campaign cost him but $237, all of which he himself contributed. The expenses included $36.90 paid out by Treasurer Harlow on trips to Springfield and Lawrence to meet party leaders, $82 paid to canvassers for names for the independent nomination papers and $118.10 which the Quincy House "night before" headquarters cost.

One other return came in yesterday from the National Republican league, of which John Hays Hammond is the head, which expended $278.10 during its campaign in Massachusetts. As Mr. Hammond contributed $910, there is a very comfortable balance on the right side. The expenses include $30 paid out to organize clubs, $22.75 for printing and postage, $144.45 for hotel headquarters and $69.90 for railroad fare.

STEAMSHIP LOBBY

HEARING BEFORE CONGRESSIONAL COMMITTEE

NEW YORK, Nov. 30.—Testimony that steamship companies which are owned abroad absolutely control American shipping and have spent money freely to foster feeling against an American marine was offered yesterday before the congressional committee holding sessions here to investigate charges that a steamship lobby was maintained at Washington. William H. Douglas, who formerly represented a New York district in congress was the witness who made these statements.

"As conditions are," Mr. Douglas testified, "the American merchant is handicapped. The foreign steamship owners make a rate at Hamburg, London and Paris that controls the export shipment of an article to this country. Even if the American should charter a steamer for his own freight he would not be able to obtain additional freight to make up a cargo."

Similar conditions govern trade between the United States and South America. Mr. Douglas said, as all the lines plying between the two countries are owned abroad, and foreign steamship companies, he asserted, had spent money freely to influence sentiment against American shipping.

"How," he was asked, "by preparing articles for the newspapers which were widely distributed, and the employment of agents?" Mr. Douglas added that although foreign companies had used whatever influence they possessed in shaping legislation and had paid men to represent them in Washington, he believed that, strictly speaking, they had not violated any law. And his testimony, he said, should be taken as facts rather than criticism.

MILLER ARRESTED

FOR ALLEGED VIOLATION OF COMMERCE LAW

SAVANNAH, Ga., Nov. 30.—Harvey C. Miller, wealthy club man, president of the Southern Steamship company and of L. F. Miller & Sons, grain merchants of Philadelphia, was arrested here yesterday by United States marshals on the charge of violating the United States commerce law of Feb. 4, as amended, which forbids unlawfully obtaining transportation in interstate at less than the established and legal rates.

It is stated that the basis for the warrant, which was sworn out before United States Commissioner Hewlett here, was the shipment of grain by L. F. Miller & Sons from Philadelphia to Jacksonville via Savannah at a less than published rate for grain between the two points.

COAST DEFENSE

OBJECT OF CANADA'S NEW NAVY

He had no fear that there ever would be an invasion of eastern Canada, for by the United States. With Russia, Japan and China, as neighbors of British Columbia, the situation on the Pacific coast was different, the premier said. Canada must prepare a naval defense on the Pacific.

EXPERT INJURED

ENCOUNTERED EXPLOSIVES IN DOOR OF SAFE

MAIDEN, Nov. 30.—Not knowing that the burglars who had attempted to blow open a safe at Richmond, Me., last week, had used nitro-glycerine between the plates of the door, Sumner H. Sandberg, of this city struck one of the plates with a heavy iron bar and was blown several feet by the force of the explosion. He is now at his home on Rockingham avenue, Maiden, in care of a specialist, the force of the explosion having caused him to bleed from the ears, nose and mouth.

Sandberg is an expert safe opener and was called to Richmond to open the damaged strong box. After carefully washing the explosive from the keyhole where the burglars had poured it, he struck the blow that nearly resulted in fatal injuries.

MANSLAUGHTER ATTENDANT AT INSANE ASYLUM IS HELD

CRANSTON, R. I., Nov. 30.—William Crowe, an attendant at the Rhode Island insane asylum, was found probably guilty of manslaughter and bound over for the grand jury in $5000 bail in the eighth district court here today. Crowe, who came here from Vermont last October, is charged with the death of Romeo Charbonneau, a patient at the institution. It is alleged that Crowe attacked Charbonneau and beat him so badly that he died at the hospital later.

LEON ARRESTED PETER PLOURDE

As Result of Fatal Boxing Bout Won Wrestling Match in New Bedford

EASTPORT, Me., Nov. 30.—Deputy Sheriff Curtis of Sherman Mills, Aroostook county, arrived here on Monday evening by train and returned early yesterday morning with Jack Leon, the Russian lion, heavyweight wrestler and boxer, who was held here Saturday at police headquarters in connection with the death last week of Billy Dunning.

The latter, a well known Maine heavyweight fighter, met Leon at Presque Isle on Thanksgiving night, was defeated in five rounds and so badly punished that he died the following day. Leon came here just before the man died, and was to have met Young Jack Johnson, the Boston colored welterweight, in a six round contest at the opera house, but his arrest cancelled the bout.

Johnson is still here, and expects to meet Leon early in December in this city, for it is expected the latter fighter will return to Eastport just as soon as he is acquitted in Aroostook county for his connection with the death of Dunning.

Leon is 6 feet 3 inches in height and weighs about 210 pounds, and has come out with challenges to meet Langford, Ferguson, Jeannette, Kaufmann and Porky Flynn. He has defeated McCormack and Flynn.

NEW BEDFORD, Nov. 30.—Nearly a thousand spectators went to Elm rink last night to witness the wrestling match between Billy Collins of England and Peter Plourde of Lowell for a purse of $400. Several thousand dollars had been wagered on the contest. The men appeared to be evenly matched and neither tipped the scales at the agreed weight of 135 pounds.

Plourde appeared to be the bigger man and got a slight advantage when he put Collins on the mat, but the Englishman wriggled out and was on his feet before the Lowell wrestler could stop him. Again the English champion was thrown to the mat by Plourde and this time with great force, Plourde falling on him.

It was seen that Collins was evidently in distress, for in a second he jumped to his feet when asked by the referee to take the center of the mat, and holding high his right hand it was seen that his thumb hung helpless. It had been broken and it was impossible for him to continue. The referee gave the match to Plourde.

Plourde and Kid Blson of Fall River gave an exhibition of wrestling for a half-hour.

The Famous Rayo

Gives the Best Light at Any Price

When you pay more than the Rayo price for a lamp, you are paying for extra decorations that cannot add to the quality of the light. You can't pay for a better light, because there is none. An oil light has the least effect on the human eye, and the Rayo Lamp is the best oil lamp made, though low in price. You can pay $5, $10, or $20 for some other lamp, and although you get a more costly lamp, you can't get a better light than the white, mellow, diffused, unflickering light of the low-priced Rayo.

Has a strong, durable shade-holder. This season's burner adds to the strength and appearance. Made of solid brass, nickel-plated, and easily polished.

COLUMBIA'S GREAT FIVE READY TO ACQUIRE ANOTHER TITLE

NEW YORK, Nov. 30.—With the great extent. Columbia, the champion of last season, will again present a formidable array. The varsity basketball squad that Coach Harry Fisher has at work is one of the best that the Blue and White has sent out in several years, as it contains all of last year's varsity five, the freshman squad and a big squad of new men. Fisher will use last year's combination in the early games of the season, but he says that the new men will get a chance just as soon as he can work them into the lineup. The schedule takes up a little more than three months and includes fourteen games. The men shown in the group are: No. 1, Mahon, forward; No. 2, Alexander, center; No. 3, guard; No. 4, Benson, guard; No. 5, Captain Klend, forward.

BOXING GOSSIP

Owen Moran, the sturdy Englishman who knocked out Battling Nelson in the eleventh round in "Frisco Saturday afternoon, will try to force Ad Wolgast, the lightweight champion of the world, into a match for the title, to be decided as soon as possible. By crushing Nelson, who was counted out for the first time in his ring career, Moran accomplished more than Wolgast, who could not stop the Dane in forty rounds. Moran went to California solely for the purpose of whipping Nelson, so that he would be in a position to challenge Wolgast. Having his manager, Charles J. Harvey, will soon post a big forfeit offering to fight him any number of rounds or to finish at 133 pounds, ringside, the purse to be split any fair way.

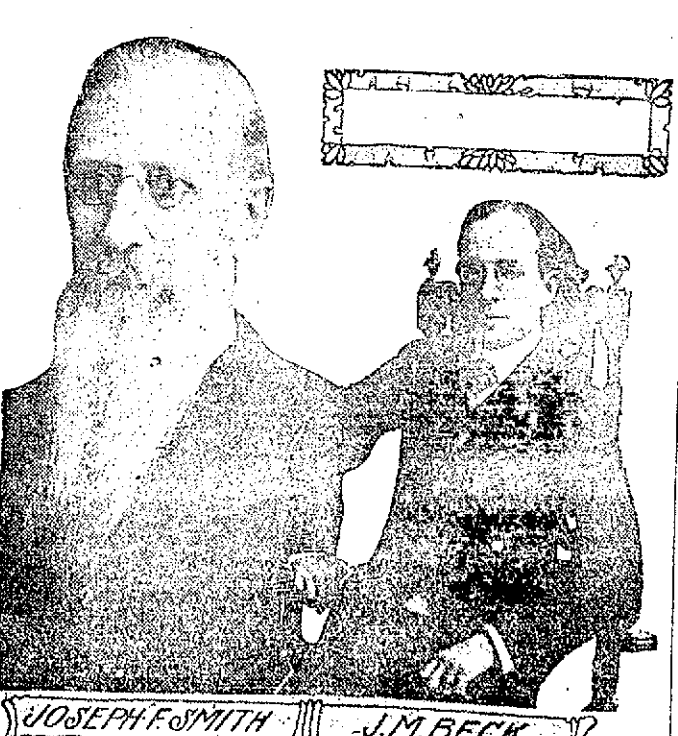

Wolgast, in the face of this challenge, will have to fight or crawl. That is the opinion of sporting men who believe in fair play and square dealing. Wolgast won the lightweight championship from Nelson fairly and squarely nearly a year ago, but he has been avoiding challengers ever since, giving as an excuse that he wished to give Nelson first chance to win the title. But with Nelson eliminated for life, Wolgast cannot longer dodge behind him. Moran beat Wolgast with ridiculous ease in a six round bout at a local club more than two years ago and incidentally took down the present champion's number. That is why Moran is falling over himself in an effort to arrange another battle with Wolgast, for if he can beat the latter in a fight at the lightweight limit he can take a world's championship back to Great Britain, where such an honor will be worth a fortune.

Wolgast has announced that he will not be ready to fight before next May, but it is believed he may agree to enter the ring earlier after he has read how Moran's challenge has been received by the public. Meanwhile there are at least three young men after Moran's scalp. Abe Attell, featherweight champion, who has already fought three draws with the Briton, says he will fight him twenty-five rounds or more at lightweight, and will make a substantial side bet, too. Pat Moore, if he beats Attell in ten rounds at the Fairmont A. C. Wednesday night, will promptly challenge Moran, with whom he recently boxed two draws, one of six and the other of twelve rounds. Knockout Brown, who is a slinger of dangerous qualities and the recent conqueror of Harlem, Tommy Murphy, is ready to fight either Moran, Moore or Wolgast, first corner first served. As Moran and Wolgast will both insist upon 133 pounds, ringside, no matter whom they may fight in future, it is worthy of note that Packy McFarland, Jack Goodman, Young Sammy Smith and Cy Smith, all so-called lightweights, will be barred from taking part in championship matches because of such conditions.

The defeat of Nelson was not a surprise to students of pugilism who have followed the game for a decade. In their opinion Nelson was on the down grade when he failed to stop Jimmie Britt and Boer Unholz after the latter Joe Gans had beaten him on a foul in forty-two rounds at Goldfield, Kans. It has always been contended, was played out boxer when Nelson won the title from him in July, 1908, and beat him again the following September. But in spite of the belief at that time that Nelson was overrated, he was honored by press agents as the greatest lightweight champion the world has ever produced. It required two, by-three rounds to stop Dick Hyland in 1909, yet Nelson still was hailed as a phenomenon. Persons who had seen Jack McAuliffe and Kid Lavigne in action laughed at these assertions and declared that McAuliffe or Lavigne would have stopped Nelson in half a dozen rounds or less. Nelson, meanwhile, refused to fight Freddie Welsh, Packy McFarland and other topweights, but took Wolgast on because he regarded the latter as a soft mark. Wolgast, a good second rate, nothing more, proceeded to stun the sporting fraternity by beating Nelson to a standstill, which gave veteran ring followers, who had held Nelson cheaply, a chance to say "We told you so."

MORMON CHURCH HEAD IN SUGAR TRUST FIGHT

NEW YORK, Nov. 30.—Charging the leading spirit, is one of the biggest sources of revenue of the monopolistic combination, it is charged by the government. That the sugar trust has decided to make a determined legal fight against the federal action was evidenced when James M. Beck, general counsel for the American Sugar Refining Company, issued a statement in which he declared that no matter what the result of the forthcoming litigation, the company's representatives would not be deprived of its property. He stated that the sugar industry is a trust, of which the Mormon leader is, country's sugar trade for the trust.

RIVALRY IS WARM KILLED BY TRAIN

In Contests of Local Bowling League Lawson's Former Clerk a Suicide

The race for supremacy in the Manufacturers' league is increasing daily and well it might, for the members of the league are battling as has no other league for the past several years. While the contest is a friendly one there is a great deal of rivalry and the latter adds materially to the interest in the contest.

At the present time the Boott team is in the lead with Massachusetts in second place. The Lowell Machine shop is a close third, while the Bigelow team is travelling some.

In the individual averages Abbott of the Boott team is at the top of the list and Preble of the Massachusetts team is second and Pillsbury of the Lawrence club is third.

TWO GAMES PLAYED

Two games were played in the Manchester Unity series last night and while the scores were not very high the games were well contested. Wamselt and Integrity lodges clashed in one game and the former team won all three points, the second string being won by the narrow margin of two pins. In the other game, that between Merrimack Valley and Excelsior lodges the latter team succeeded in securing one point.

In the Manufacturers' league the Bigelow team gave the Boott quintet, the leaders in the league, an awful trouncing, winning the total pot over 125 pins and taking two of the three games. The losing team started off with a rush but came to grief during the second and third strings. The scores:

BOSTON, Nov. 30.—John F. Donahoe, a well known Lynn business man, committed suicide this morning by jumping in front of an on-coming elevated train in the Union street subway station.

Mr. Donahoe was standing on the platform of the Union street station and as the train approached threw himself into the trench in front of the cars. The first car ran over him and the second had to be lifted slightly in order to drag the body out. Identification was through a card and a receipt from a Lynn lawyer.

John F. Donahoe, who committed suicide in a Washington street tunnel station in Boston today, was for 12 years a confidential clerk in the employ of Thomas W. Lawson, the Boston financier. In 1908 Donahoe sued Lawson for $125,000 for services he claimed including the arrangement of dealings between Mr. Lawson and Senator W. A. Clark of Montana. J. Edward Adams of Delaware, F. Augustus Heinz and the late Henry H. Rogers of New York. Donahoe claimed also to have delivered to Lawson the books of the Bay State Gas Co. of Delaware and the books and stocks of the Bay State Gas Co. of New Jersey at the time of the so-called "D. B." receivership, thus, he alleged, enabling Lawson to force the terms of the settlement with Henry H. Rogers in the Boston gas war.

Mr. Donahoe claimed further that as a representative of Lawson he had launched several theatrical enterprises and that he had arranged meetings in New York between Lawson and many men prominent in the financial world. The case, it is understood, was settled out of court a short time ago.

Donahoe was born in Ireland about 60 years ago. His family said today that they knew no reason for his suicide. He is survived by a widow, two sons and six daughters.

As to the campaign, Senator Lodge said:

"Although it is rather early, I am perfectly content in the manner in which it is progressing."

Senator Lodge planned to start for Washington yesterday but was detained owing to the illness of his son.

TO SUPREME COURT

Goes Lynn Case Against the Boston & Northern

Street Railroad Company Fined $25 for Refusing Half Rate Tickets to Evening School Pupil—Temporary Truce Declared Between Road and the School Board

LYNN, Nov. 30.—The Lynn school board, at a special meeting last night, voted, in effect, to stand behind the single case in which the Boston & Northern Street Railway company was fined $25 in a local court for not providing half-rate transportation tickets to an evening school pupil, but not to bring the company into court on further individual cases until the supreme court shall have had opportunity to pass on the original case. This vote, which came on the question empowering the secretary of the school board to take such action as he might deem necessary to compel the Boston & Northern to furnish such transportation, came during a meeting marked by much discussion.

James Bell, inspector general of rifle practice for the National guard of the District of Columbia, and at one time one of the best marksmen in the country, died here at his home last night. HARMON GREETED

By Enthusiasts at Conference of Governors

FRANKFORT, Ky., Nov. 30.—The third annual conference of governors, the first to be held outside of Washington, began a five days' session here yesterday with 34 of the executives of the states present to derive benefits from the experiences of each other.

For several days Governor Willson of Kentucky has made it plain that he would do all in his power to eliminate politics from the conference, and in the preliminary arrangements has done so. However, at the first session yesterday held in the hall of representatives of the new state capital building, there were two outbursts of political enthusiasm. One was when Gov. Judson Harmon of Ohio entered the hall. He was greeted by slight handclapping, which was accorded no other governor. The moment the meeting adjourned a man in the gallery called for cheers for Mr. Harmon.

With a frown, Governor Willson raised his hand and stopped whatever progress the suggestion might have made. He said such a demonstration was entirely out of place and would not be tolerated. He had already laid stress on this feature when in his opening remarks he stated that the governors were called together for a conference only and that it was not a "house of governors," as previous meetings had been termed. Governor Willson then read a letter from President Taft regretting his absence, in which he said:

"I have great sympathy with the objects of your meeting which I understand to be for the general national welfare by uniformity of state legislation upon subjects having general national interest which are not, by the constitution, entrusted to congress and the central government. I wish for your meeting the most successful issue in substantial results."

Governor Pothier of Rhode Island responded to the welcoming addresses of Governor Willson and Mayor Polsgrove of Frankfort, after which the visiting party and several prominent Kentuckians were entertained at luncheon. At the latter session Governor-elect Woodrow Wilson of New Jersey delivered an address on "The Possibilities of the Governors' Conference."

Last night Governor and Mrs. Willson gave a reception at the governor's mansion.

GOOD RIDDANCE ALL TRAMPS HAVE LEFT THE STATE

BOSTON, Nov. 30.—That all tramps have left Massachusetts was the declaration made in the annual reports of the Massachusetts Civic league, read yesterday at the meeting of the organization. Many other encouraging facts were contained in the reports, and it was learned a new campaign for health and housing was underway. It was also declared the playgrounds might be used by the old as well as the young.

Speaking of the tramp question, William P. Fowler said: "The state is fairly well rid of the professional tramp, as it is thoroughly understood throughout the tramp world Massachusetts is a closed state."

Robert A. Woods, reporting for the committee on drunkenness, declared the "bar and bottle" bill, passed last year, was the most important piece of legislation enacted by the Massachusetts legislature during the past 25 years.

It was voted to give a certificate of the first grade to George E. Lee, Boston college, 1909, and one of the second grade to Miss Mary Z. Martin, Smith college, 1910. The following rules governing the licensing of minors selling newspapers were adopted:

1.—No minor under 14 years of age shall, in any street or public place of the city of Lowell, work as a boot-black, or sell or expose for sale any books, newspapers, pamphlets, fuel, fruits, provisions, live animals, brooms, agricultural implements, hand tools used in making boots and shoes, agricultural products of the United States or the products of his own labor or the labor of his family, unless he has been granted a minor's license in accordance with the provisions of chapter 66, section 17, revised laws, and chapter 531 of the acts of 1902.

All such licenses shall be granted by the supervisor of licensed minors subject to the approval of the school committee, and said licensed minors shall wear a badge issued by the supervisor.

4.—The minor shall conform to the statutes, the ordinances of the city of Lowell, and the regulations of the school committee.

5.—He shall, so long as he continues to be licensed, attend, during every session thereof, one of the public schools, or some regularly established school in the city of Lowell, unless excused from such attendance in accordance with the provisions of the statutes.

6.—He shall not sell, lend or give his badge to any one, nor furnish any unlicensed minor with newspapers or other articles to sell.

7.—He shall not sell newspapers in or on a street car, nor during school hours, between 8 o'clock in the morning and after 5 o'clock in the evening, except during the period from April 15 to October 15, when he shall sell no papers before 6 o'clock in the morning nor after 9 o'clock in the evening, and except on days of national, state or city elections, when he shall not sell papers after 10 o'clock in the evening.

8.—He shall not at any time, while engaged in working as a bootblack, or selling articles in public places, congregate with other persons, nor make any unnecessary noise, nor in any way disturb or annoy persons as they pass, nor obstruct free passage of any sidewalk, or entrance to any public place.

9.—He shall not at any time, while working or selling, fail to wear his badge conspicuously in sight, in such position as may be designated by the supervisor.

10.—Any minor who violates any of the foregoing provisions of the regulations will be deprived of his license and badge and will be subject to a fine.

11.—The supervisor may suspend a license for period not exceeding two weeks, or revoke a license, subject to the approval of the school committee.

12.—Applications, licenses and badges shall be in such form as may be approved by the supervisor.

13.—Licenses shall not be issued to girls, nor to boys who are under the age of ten years.

DIAMOND BUTTONS FOR UMPIRES IN WORLD'S B. B. SERIES

CHICAGO, Nov. 30.—President Johnson of the American league said yesterday there would be diamond buttons for the four umpires who participated in the world's series, just the same as for the twenty-three members of the victorious Philadelphia team. In the past the national commission has limited the jewelry to the players, the manager and owner of the winning club. This new departure will provide for emblems for Charles E. Bender, Tommy Connolly and Jack Sheridan, the arbiters, as well as for President Ben Shibe and Manager Cornelius Magliacuddy of the Athletics and President Thomas Lynch of the National league. The emblems will be forwarded to the players and officials within a few days, according to President Johnson.

20 FATALITIES DURING HUNTING SEASON IN MICHIGAN

CALUMET, Mich., Nov. 30.—During the deer hunting season, which opened Nov. 10 and closed today, there were 46 accidents in the upper peninsula of Michigan, 20 of which were fatal. More deaths are expected.

Practically all the accidents were due to carelessness, some of the fatalities being caused by the ignorant handling of firearms by green hunters. In four cases men who killed persons accidentally left their victims to die unattended. In 28 cases hunters were shot by mistake for deer. More game fell and more hunters were killed or maimed in northern Michigan this season than in any year. The slaughter of deer is estimated at 5000.

LETTER REMAILED

After Being Lost in Mail Six Years

Not at all discouraged over the non-delivery of her letter of Christmas and New Year greetings since she first mailed it, Dec. 23, 1904, Mrs. Frank Marsh Merrill of this city, to whom the letter was returned by the postal authorities yesterday after a mysterious voyage of six years, redirected it to her Nantucket friends, one of whom has since become a "Mrs."

The letter was originally directed to "The Misses Swain, 185 Congress street, Boston." Delivery to 185 Congress street was safely accomplished, but the Misses Swain had gone to Nantucket; so the letter was re-directed and sent there. The letter was received in Nantucket by someone and later mailed back to Boston.

It was a year after the original mailing that the second attempt was made to deliver the letter to 185 Congress street. The Misses Swain were not there and it started back to Nantucket. Again it failed to reach the women addressed, for they had either left the island at that time or the postmaster could not find them.

The letter was returned to Lowell, and found its way back to Mrs. Merrill. Now, still unopened, it is again on its way, bearing six-year-old greetings for a merry Christmas and happy New Year.

Balfour Supports Referendum—Irish Unionists Are Defiant—Winston Churchill Rotten-Egg—Suffragists Worry Asquith

LONDON, Nov. 30.—The politicians of all parties are straining every nerve to crowd into a few days the work which in ordinary elections is spread over weeks and months. Nearly all the heavy guns were in action last night.

Arthur J. Balfour, leader of the opposition in the house of commons, before a big meeting in Albert hall, where he warmly supported the referendum, described the government as puppets dancing to the tune of John Redmond and his American paymasters.

Prime Minister Asquith spoke at Reading, Chancellor Lloyd-George at Cardiff, John E. Redmond, leader of the nationalists, at Dublin, Winston Spencer Churchill, home secretary, at Colchester, Augustine Birrell, chief secretary for Ireland, at Bristol, John Burns, president of the local government board, at Battersea, and Austen Chamberlain, at Ashton.

The issues are narrowing daily. The conservatives make much of the menace of home rule. They proclaim that the plan of the liberals for the reform of the house of lords means a single chamber government, and put to the front their new policy of the referendum.

Devoing the Lords' Scheme

There is great fervor among the liberals, a feature being the sudden reforming zeal on the part of the lords, who claim that Lansdowne's referendum scheme is a snare because the parties would be unequally yoked together under it. The conservatives would always sail smoothly through the house of lords, while the referendum would be evoked only for liberal bills which were distasteful to the peers.

Moreover, they estimate the cost of each appeal to the people as $10,000,000.

An interesting factional cleavage has occurred in Balfour's party over tariff reform. The speaker, which is the spokesman of the unionist free traders, has proposed that the tariff reformers pledge themselves to submit the question to a referendum if the party wins, it not being a leading issue of the campaign.

The most ardent tariff reformers, led by the Morning Post, contend that it is the foremost principle of the party. "The unionist party breaks into fragments," says the Post. "If the unionist party does not mean tariff reform."

A Fine Home Made Salve

When living prices are sky high and the average family has to skimp on everything, it is well to economize on even so humble a thing as salve. Nearly every family in this community has more or less need for a reliable antiseptic, soothing, healing salve. Our ordinary salves cost from 25c to 50c per ounce, but anyone can make a salve of the best quality for over a year's use on cuts, burns, sores, bruises, itching, eczema, chaps, etc. Obtain of your druggist, or write for recipe. It is a simple matter to make. It is a salve which will last an ordinary family a year and may prevent blood poisoning in an emergency. Its healing powers are wonderful, owing to the vitamin, which has many valuable properties.

FOR MEN AND WOMEN

49 John St. Morris Block

Mr. Balfour last night announced his willingness to leave to a referendum. In the meantime the leaders are making every appeal to what in the United States would be called the independent vote, believing that it controls the issue.

Irish Unionists Defiant

The Irish unionists sent a message of defiance to home rulers for Mr. Balfour's meeting and deputations from the non-conformist unionist association of England and 600 ministers of non-Episcopal churches in Ireland have addressed Mr. Balfour in opposition to home rule.

At the Albert hall meeting the reading of the message from the Irish unionists caused much enthusiasm. "In all solemnity," it said, "we now declare that home rule will bring Ireland no peace but the sword. If an Irish parliament is set up the unionists of Ulster will not acknowledge its authority. They will neither obey its decrees nor pay its taxes."

Mr. Balfour pronounced strongly in favor of the referendum as the best method of settling the deadlock between the two houses without requiring the reform of the house of lords, and said it could be carried into effect before the house of lords was reformed.

This he declared to be Lansdowne's plan. The cost of a referendum, he said, would be nearer $10,000,000 than the estimate of the liberals, $10,000,000. "Some people seem to think," continued the opposition leader, "that asking whether I would submit tariff reform to a referendum would put me in a hole. I frankly say that tariff reform would be a great change. I am taking place on tariff reform as I have not the least objection to submitting tariff reform to a referendum. It seems to me that our opposition should respond with the generosity we agreed that home rule should be the subject to a referendum, too. Great cheering followed this statement."

Mr. Balfour denied that the veto on home rule had been broken up by the unyielding attitude of the lords. He asserted that the government was threatening a revolution, he said, by the unyielding attitude of the lords. He asserted that the government was threatening a revolution, he said, by the unyielding attitude of the lords. He asserted that the government was threatening a revolution, he said, by the unyielding attitude of the lords.

CHURCHILL ROTTEN EGGED

COLCHESTER, Eng., Nov. 30.—[Riotous scenes were witnessed the appearance here last night of Winston Spencer Churchill, the home secretary. Thousands congregated in the streets jeering and shouting. Many of them gathered around Mr. Churchill's car and when they threw fish, eggs and other missiles at him.

Many of the windows in the liberal headquarters were smashed. A large draft of police was sent out to patrol the streets, the authorities fearing counter demonstrations.

WORRIED BY SUFFRAGISTS

READING, Eng., Nov. 30.—Mr. Asquith's meeting last night was disturbed frequently by suffragist sympathizers, the majority of whom were thrown out. After discussing the various questions at issue the prime minister said:

"We are told that dissolution was forced on the government by John Redmond. Take it from me, Mr. Redmond had no more to do with the dissolution of parliament than the man in the moon."

Mr. Asquith taunted the lords with becoming so alive to the urgent necessity of reconstruction that they had produced the specifications of an entirely new chamber in one week, after an unbroken slumber of many years. If the Tories came into power, tariff reform, for which he said, would be adopted without a referendum.

BOSTON, Nov. 30.—Forced to flee from their native land under penalty of imprisonment, two Jesuit priests, who were driven out of Portugal a month ago, reached Boston yesterday and are now guests of Rev. Thomas J. Gannon, S. J., president of Boston college. They are Rev. Anthony Azedo, S. J., and Rev. Joachim Costa, S. J. The former escaped during the revolution by donning the garb of a secular priest. Costa was seized and imprisoned before he was released and ordered out of the country.

The upholders of the republic of Portugal are in no way like you citizens of the great American republic," said Father Azedo. "The idea of these men is to have, not a democratic form of government, but only an unrestrained freedom, subject to no laws whatever. The republic was hailed with most joy by the prisoners and the ruffians who live in defiance of the law."

The priests will remain in this country and labor among the Portuguese Catholic communities.

Fr. Azedo is a veteran missionary in Portugal and has traveled extensively in Europe and Asia. He was born at Arcos de Val de Voz, the province of Minho, in 1861, his native city being famous for one of the greatest battles in the war of Portugal's independence. He studied in his native town and at Braga under the Fathers of the Holy Ghost, then at the university of Coimbra, one of the oldest in Europe.

He was first stationed in his own country and soon after sent to India as a missionary among the Portuguese colonists at Belgaum. He remained 10 years, encountering much sickness, at one time being almost at the point of death. He was finally recalled, and for eight years has been stationed in Portugal at Braga, his native town, being at Barcelona, Madrid and Lisbon.

At the time of the recent revolution in Portugal and has traveled extensively in Europe and Asia. He was born at Arcos de Val de Voz, the province of Minho, in 1861, his native city being famous for one of the greatest battles in the war of Portugal's independence. He studied in his native town and at Braga under the Fathers of the Holy Ghost, then at the university of Coimbra, one of the oldest in Europe.

Both priests say the outbreak against the church and government was brought about by false reports and accusations in the press. The people were gradually led to believe, they say, that religion was a crime and that members of religious orders were criminals. "The most prominent religious orders in Portugal were the Jesuits and Franciscans, though there were other congregations such as the Redemptorists, Lazarists and Fathers of Mercy."

The results throughout the entire country numbered about 500, operating a number of smaller missions and conducting two large schools at Campolide, a suburb of Lisbon, and St. Paul. The former is a school famous for its learning throughout all Europe. These two colleges, together with all the religious institutions conducted by the Jesuits and other Catholic orders, were immediately closed by the insurrection.

The priests who left the country have taken refuge in various parts of the world, and hundreds of Catholics were hurried away, they say, to destinations unknown. All the outbreaks were concerted and carried out by a band of anarchists, believing that religion was not favorable to freedom and seeking to set up a religion and government of their own.

LAWYERS GALORE

In Sensational Suit Against Gould Road

NEW YORK, Nov. 30.—Arguments will be begun before Judge Lacombe in the United States circuit court Dec. 2 on the application of the Colonist the trust company is the specific issue, but the fight is in reality the opening of long pending litigation growing out of the receiverships into which the Pittsburgh Terminal and the Wheeling and Lake Erie railroads were thrown two years ago. Five law suits altogether have been begun or are in contemplation as a result of these receiverships, including one attacking the Pittsburgh-Toledo syndicate which financed the Wabash extension into Pittsburgh. George J. Gould, Joseph Ramsey, Jr., former Gov. Myron T. Herrick of Ohio and James Hazen Hyde, the surviving managers of the syndicate, are the defendants in it, and the attack upon them promises to be especially vigorous. Sensational developments concerning the way in which the Wabash's picturesque movement upon the Pittsburgh district was georalled are looked for, and there have been intimations of personal actions against the well known men involved. Francis L. Stetson, the general counsel for the Gould roads, has engaged nine leading attorneys to help him in the legal end of the fight.
